Four Killed In Big Riot At Prison

Police, Guardsmen Move Into State Penitentiary at Jefferson City

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 23 (AP)—Heavily armed police backed by National Guardsmen moved into the strife-torn Missouri State Penitentiary today to quell any possible last-ditch uprising by unruly convicts.

Four prisoners were killed and eight penitentiary buildings destroyed or severely damaged by fire in a six-hour riot last night. Thirty prisoners and three guards were injured.

Officials estimated damage might reach five million dollars.

The shouting rock-throwing convicts finally were driven back into their buildings after state troopers fired on them.

Some, however, refused to go into their cells and there were sporadic outbursts — shouting and the noise of breaking glass and fixtures—throughout the night from one of the darkened buildings.

A large detachment of Missouri Highway Patrol Troopers moved through front door of cellblock B at 7 a. m. Two minutes later there was a riot gun blast, followed by shouting and crashing of glass.

THE TROOPERS could be seen marching down the cell tiers, moving upward. A few minutes later the shouting died down. Several prisoners came out with their hands up.

Deployed in and around the prison, one of the largest state prisons in the country, were more than 500 officers and Missouri National Guardsmen from all parts of the state. One company of guardsmen from St. Louis arrived by special train early today.

Prisoners, their hands locked behind the heads, trickled out of B cellblock as the troopers moved in. Two prisoners, both apparently seriously injured, were brought out. One was carried away on a stretcher. One had a bloody towel around his head.

AS ONE PRISONER came out there was laughter from cellblock A, occupied by Negro prisoners, as if they knew and scorned him particularly.

From the windows of E Hall, where the rioting began at dusk last night, convicts stood in the windows watching armed efforts to put down the riot.

Meanwhile groups of armed troopers and policemen scoured the extension prison yard looking for prisoners who might have hidden out to escape injury or possible death.

JUST BEFORE the troopers moved in, Clarence Dietzel, a missing guard from "death row" was carried out by two convicts. He had a black eye and appeared to have been beaten or thrown from some height.

FERNANDO GERMANI

Fernando Germani, first organist at St. Peter's in the Vatican, will give an organ recital at St. John's Church, Albany avenue, Wednesday, Sept. 29, at 8:15 p. m. This will be Mr. Germani's first appearance on his current nationwide tour.

The renowned virtuoso of the organ is now organ professor and teacher of organ composition at the State Conservatory of Music in Rome, head of the organ department at the Accademie Chigiana of Siena, and member of St. Cecilia Academy of Music, Rome. Mr. Germani also writes organ text books, and compositions for the instrument.

IN ADDITION to appearing in hundreds of solo recitals, Germani has also appeared as guest soloist with numerous orchestras under celebrated conductors. Stokowski, Sir Henry Wood, de Sabata, Bernadini Molinari among others have been on the podium with Germani as guest artist.

Born and trained in Rome, Germani numbers among his many distinguished teachers Ot-

Col. Fleming Dismissed From Army; Will Appeal

Ft. Sheridan, Ill., Sept. 23 (AP)—Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, first American army officer court-martialed for conduct as a prisoner of war, was sentenced today to dismissal from the service.

In addition he must forfeit all pay and allowances, under terms of the punishment assessed by an 11-man military court which convicted him of collaborating with the Communists while a prisoner in Korea.

The court-martial of 11 colonels and lieutenant colonels deliberated for 12 hours before fixing Fleming's punishment. The officers considered the extent of the penalty from late yesterday afternoon until 3:30 a. m. today. The court-martial reassembled at 9 a. m. (EST) to deliver its verdict.

MOST OF THE prosecution and defense witnesses were in the courtroom when the sentence was announced. Many of

Steelworkers Stay With CIO

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 23 (AP)—David J. McDonald announced today that he had no intention of leading his 1,200,000-member United Steelworkers out of the CIO.

The USW president called for the 3,000 delegates to the Steelworkers biennial convention to adopt a resolution aimed at closer "labor unity."

McDonald was cheered as he discounted reports of a conflict with CIO President Walter Reuther and called newspaper stories about a possible withdrawal "figments of their imagination."

$85,000 Is Goal Of Chest

Seven Agencies Members Locally

The first Community Chest drive for the Kingston area—its goal $85,000 for seven participating youth and welfare organizations will be held in October.

The present Community Chest is comprised of seven agencies qualifying for membership.

They are the Boy's Club of Kingston, Rip Van Winkle Council of Boy Scouts, Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Jewish Community Center, Salvation Army, YMCA and YWCA.

EACH HAS in the past conducted an annual fund drive. Each submitted a proposed budget of operating expenses to the Chest budget committee which evaluated the services of the agency to the community and checked to determine whether "proper economics of operation" were in effect.

The recommendation of this committee was passed to the board of directors of the Kingston Area Community Chest, Inc., for action.

THE GOAL for the campaign was fixed by the board of directors on the basis of "efficient operation as well as service to the community."

According to Joseph J. Genthner of Patchogue, L. I., who arrived Monday to organize and direct the campaign, no member agency is supported entirely by Community Chest funds. All have other sources of income depending on the agency—memberships, festivals, rummage sales, allocations from national headquarters, bazaars, candy and cookie sales and other typically American activities. Several of the agencies meet part of their operating cost by charging fees on a sliding scale for certain services. These fees are adjusted according to means. Those who cannot pay are given service without charge.

THUS, THE KINGSTON Area Community Chest makes up the deficit between the sums which agencies receive from other sources and their actual operating costs.

Genthner, who plans to be in Kingston for about six weeks, at which time the campaign should be concluded, has headed fund raising drives on a professional basis since 1938 with the exception of three years during the war when he was with the USO. He also was with the finance service bureau of the National Council of the YMCA for four years.

Until now only 11 communities in the United States in Kingston's population class were without Community Chest organizations. Kingston was one of them.

Genthner points out that a Chest offers may advantages to a community.

"INSTEAD OF SEVEN different appeals from seven separate organizations there will be one appeal from all seven on an organized scientific basis.

"This conserves the time and effort of a great number of men and women who give of their time and talents. The Chest makes one supreme effort.

Due to the coordination and cooperation of the seven agencies, administration becomes less expensive and more highly efficient because the administration plans and programs of the seven agencies will be closely coordi-

Republicans Select Ives, McGovern and Rep. Javits

WORK HAS BEEN PROGRESSING, to date, this month on the toll-collecting unit at the Route 28 traffic interchange of the New York State Thruway west of the city. The structure, which is to house the mechanical equipment of the unit, is nearing completion and much ground work has been done in preparation for building the toll-collecting units nearest the highway. The work schedule calls for completion by Oct. 15. The view here is looking north toward Sawkill from the interchange area. (Freeman Photo)

President Endorses Candidate

Fight Arises Over Comptroller Spot

Syracuse, Sept. 23 (AP) — The Republican State Convention roared out its confidence in Sen. Irving M. Ives at 12:30 p. m. (DST) today and nominated him for governor by acclamation.

Comptroller J. Raymond McGovern will be the candidate for lieutenant governor and Rep. Jacob K. Javits of Manhattan will run for attorney general on the GOP state ticket.

But at the eleventh hour there still was no decision among party leaders, bickering among themselves in a tussle for power and prestige, on who would be the candidate for comptroller.

USHERED IN by a standing ovation, Gov. Dewey put Ives' nomination before the convention by saying it was "a high privilege to pass on the baton to an anchor man" after his own 12 years as governor.

In his acceptance speech, Ives pledged himself to wage a vigorous campaign and pounded repeatedly on the theme: "Let us talk sense."

President Eisenhower, through a letter read by Leonard W. Hall, the GOP national chairman, endorsed Ives as a candidate who would supply the "sure, strong hands" the President said were needed in these fateful times.

After the nomination of McGovern, the convention recessed to permit party leaders to huddle once more in a last-ditch effort to settle their quarrels and pick a comptroller nominee.

THEY ALSO WERE to choose a candidate for associate judge of the Court of Appeals, probably Sydney F. Foster of Liberty, who now is presiding judge of the appelate division of the state supreme court, third department.

The surprise Democratic choice of Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., provided the straw that virtually dictated the choice of Javits, a vote-getter who had been locked in a tight race with Assemblyman Rabin of Queens.

Averell Harriman is the Democratic candidate for governor.

Strong sentiment for an Italian-American candidate for the comptroller nomination was aroused when it was learned that the Democrats had named District Attorney George B. DeLuca of the Bronx for lieutenant governor.

IN HIS ACCEPTANCE speech, Ives declared the Republicans "can and will sweep the state."

He assured the party that his reluctance to run for governor "has been completely dissipated." It was founded, he said, only on his desire to see Dewey run for a fourth term.

Ives put himself solidly behind Dewey's record by hailing it as "12 brilliant years of Republican administration." He pledged himself to "make the most vigorous and the most intensive campaign of which I am capable."

The candidate cautioned the delegates to expect "that some of our opponents will attempt to create an artificial cleavage" by trying to divide New York city from the rest of the state.

"That is nothing but an adaptation of the Communist tactic of trying to divide and conquer by substituting confusion for fact," he declared.

"But as for ourselves," he urged, "let us talk sense."

Dewey's speech touched off a 15-minute demonstration for Ives.

Then Hall, in an off-the-cuff

President Given Big Reception

Eisenhower Backs Policy on Power

McNary Dam, Ore., Sept. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower, welcomed rousingly to the Pacific Northwest, today links his campaign for election of another Republican Congress with a "spirited defense" of his administration on the hot public power issue.

The President, on a four-state flying tour of the far west, scheduled a major address at ceremonies dedicating the 286 million dollar McNary Dam on the Columbia river here (1:30 p. m., EST).

Eisenhower left the Summer White House in Denver yesterday afternoon and told an applauding, police-estimated audience of 30,000 at Missoula, Mont., last night that his administration's "basic policy" is that American citizens generally are better qualified to look after themselves "than is some bureaucrat in far-off Washington."

INDICATIONS IN advance of his speech here today were that the President would strike pretty much the same theme in discussing the administration's controversial program for placing in local hands much of the responsibility for development of the northwest's power resources. Aides said Eisenhower's address would amount to a spirited defense of the program.

Democrats have been sharply assailing the program as a step backward.

After his McNary speech the President was taking off immediately for Los Angeles, where tonight he addresses a big political rally in Hollywood Bowl. Tomorrow morning in Los Angeles he will speak informally at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

EISENHOWER GOT an enthusiastic welcome from his airport audience in Missoula and a rip-roaring one on his arrival last night in Walla Walla, Wash., where he spent the night.

On hand at both places were Republican candidates for Congressional and state offices, and the President did a lot of politi-

Bingo Has Place In GOP Planks

Syracuse, Sept. 23 (AP) — New York Republicans were committed today, in terms spelled out in an 11,000-word platform, to give voters an opportunity to legalize bingo.

But the platform, adopted last night at the GOP state convention, ducked compulsory automobile insurance — long a pet proposal of Gov. Dewey and just as long scuttled by the Legislature.

When members of the Platform Committee, headed by Miss Mary Donlon, started reading the long document, most of the 1,279 delegates were on hand. The reader skipped some sections. An hour and 10 minutes passed, then the approximately 150 weary diehards who stayed in the hall adopted the platform unanimously.

THE 34 PLANKS pledge the party generally to good government and many other things designed to make citizens happier.

Specifically, the platform backed state development of hydro-electric power, urged quick completion of the state thruway, assured aid for a drink-more-milk campaign, and attacked racketeering and corruption in all forms.

Along the way it had high praise for Dewey's programs in the last 12 years, and took a swipe at the "carping hypocracies of political opponents who have not, for 12 long years, produced or proposed programs of substance or sincerity."

THE BINGO PLANK said the party favored a referendum to decide whether bingo and similar games should be permitted, on a local option basis, for the benefit of non-profit organizations "under careful safeguards."

Sen. Irving M. Ives, the GOP choice for governor, has called bingo a harmless pastime. The Democratic platform favors removing bingo bans from the law and constitution.

The closest the platform came to automobile liability insurance was: "We pledge our support of an effective program to eliminate the financially irresponsible motorist from the highway."

There was no elaboration on how it could be done.

A SUMMARY distributed with the platform text committed the party to "press for legislation" to rid the roads of financially irresponsible drivers. But the platform itself steered clear of "legislation" and promised only "fortright and effective action."

The power plank specifically endorsed the state power authority's bid to develop additional power at Niagara Falls. Ives cosponsored a bill in Congress to hand the job to the state.

The platform noted that the state was considering four additional "thruways" and called these and other road improvements as "of the utmost importance."

Reference to the proposed superhighways as "thruways" was taken as a hint that tolls might be imposed, just as on the thruway.

COMMUNISM WAS condemned as the "mortal enemy of our civilization and the human values in which we believe." The platform pledged a continuing fight against the ideology "without hysteria."

At the same time, the GOP program noted that a code of fair procedure was enacted this year to allow the state to root out "rascality and subversion" without impairing the government's right to obtain information. Witnesses in state investigations will continue to be protected from smears, the platform said.

Other planks supported:

1. EXTENSION of the state's program for letting private non-

Russians Aim Radio Talks At U.S. Servicemen in North

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP) — The army says Russia is aiming its propaganda radio at American servicemen stationed on the big and isolated air base of Thule, in northwestern Greenland.

It cites the Thule-beamed Voice of Russia as part of the general Red propaganda effort directed "at undermining the American soldiers' morale, especially in foreign lands where American troops are stationed."

Reference to Thule is contained in a new troop training pamphlet, "Defense Against Enemy Propaganda," now being circulated by the army. It does not discuss what, if any, effect the propaganda has on U. S. troops.

The pamphlet outlines the objectives and types of Communist propaganda — "white" or open propaganda where the source identifies itself, "grey" which emanates from an unidentified source, and "black" which comes from a source pretending to be someone or something else.

In connection with the beaming of Soviet propaganda at Thule, the army pamphlet says:

"Troops there hear a program conducted by an anonymous feminine disc jockey, dubbed Moscow Molly by the American soldiers. In addition to the recorded rumbas and fox trots the soft female voice quotes editorials from Pravda, the leading Soviet party newspaper in Russia. Although the men tune in only to hear dance music intro-

Roosevelt Has Spot as Candidate

Junior Will Seek Attorney General

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—Democrats today hailed the nomination of Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., for attorney general and said it would give their state ticket a big lift in the Nov. 2 election.

Roosevelt was brought back into the picture less than 24 hours after he had been defeated by Averell Harriman in a battle for the nomination for governor.

The same Tammany-led coalition that had drubbed Roosevelt turned to him yesterday and asked him to join Harriman's supporting cast.

THE MOVE WAS MADE to heal the wounds caused by the fight over the top place on the ticket. It was intended also to strengthen the slate— and both factions agreed it would. Sen. Herbert H. Lehman, a leader of the Harriman forces, was reported to have urged third place for Roosevelt.

Surprisingly, the son of the late president accepted the offer and, with the other hand-picked choices of the leaders, was nominated unanimously last night at a love-feast finals to the two-day state convention.

CHOSEN WITH HIM WERE: For lieutenant governor—George B. DeLuca, Bronx county district attorney.

For comptroller — Aaron L. Jacoby of Brooklyn, chief clerk

Vols to Discuss Convention Plans

A delegation of officials from the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association will be at Central Fire Station, Sunday at 2 p. m., to join local committees and friends in making plans for the organization's annual convention here next June.

This was announced today by General Chairman James Locke of the local convention committee, a member of Wiltwyck Hose, who said Charles Fales of Haverstraw, secretary of the valley association, would lead the delegation of out-of-towners to the meeting.

THE THREE-DAY convention on June 16, 17 and 18 is expected to be one of the biggest in the history of the association, with approximately 125 companies in attendance to take part in the parade the last day of the conference.

Chief Joseph L. Murphy of the Kingston Paid Fire Department is grand marshal in charge of planning for the long march through the city, and will attend

Barge Use Is Due on Span

A plant set up on a barge will be used to pour concrete in the base of river piers of the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge, Jess Comer, project superintendent for the Merritt-Chapman & Scott, Corp., the substructure contractor, revealed today.

The barge is expected to arrive at the bridge site, north of the city, next week. It had been used for the same type of work by the contractor at Tarrytown where the New York State Thruway will span the Hudson.

THE MARQUEE

T.V. — STAGE — RADIO — RECORDS — PEOPLE

By DICK KLEINER

TWO new pastimes are occupying some of the Broadwayites, which shows you that even life along the main stem can get boring at times.

It turns out to be good clean fun to spin some 45 RPM records at 33 1/3 RPM. Particularly funny is the new Columbia record of "Sisters," with Rosemary and Betty Clooney. Slowed down to long-playing speed, this sounds like a couple of bass-baritons on an off day. With frogs in their throats. Bull frogs.

Another happy sport is putting new words to "Hey There," particularly the line which goes, "Hey, there, you with your nose in the air." The possibilities for take-off are infinite. Try it yourself, but keep it clean.

State, county and local fairs have become big business to entertainers. In the old days, a fair would perhaps have a couple of jugglers and a trained dog act, but nowadays the bigger ones get top stars.

The New Jersey State Fair, in Trenton, coming soon, will have a show bill featuring Johnny Ray and Phil Spitalny with his all-girl orchestra. (Remember Ted Brown's crack, calling Frank Chacksfield's orchestra, which played the seagull-filled "Ebb-Tide," the "all-gull orchestra"?) And a bill starring Ray and Spitalny is fair enough.

Col. Fleming

the men who were prisoners of war in Korea with Fleming stood tensely in the courtroom waiting for the court's decision.

"Thank God I'm out of prison now—this one and the Communist's" Col. Fleming said after the sentence was pronounced he added:

"I'll do everything I can to clear my name."

"Dismissal from the service is pretty hard to take. I don't intend to stop the fight which started here."

The colonel said he wished to express "his tremendous thanks to his friends and to those who never heard of me before this thing but who have responded with hundreds of letters wishing me well."

COUNSEL FOR the white-haired, 46-year-old infantry officer of Racine, Wis., first American officer ever court-martialed for his behaviour as a POW, said the convictin would be appealed to "the highest authority in the country."

Kingston W. Ehrlich, Racine real estate man who sparked an earlier drive in which Fleming's hometown retained a civilian attorney for the defendant, said: "Racine will raise a sizeable defense fund to help rush an appeal."

THE FIRST STEP in an appeal would be to take the case to the judge advocate of the 5th Army for review and for advice of the commanding general. Appeals may eventually be carried to the President.

Fleming, who contended that his actions in three years of captivity were designed to spare fellow prisoners, accepted the verdict without show of emotion. But he told newsmen:

"Although I have lost this battle, I don't expect to lose in the end. In the end, right will prevail.

"I THINK AMERICAN justice will prevail not only for me but for the thousands of prisoners who came out of prison camps with a halo of suspicion over them. My conscience is perfectly clear."

The court found Fleming guilty of collaboration by making recordings used for Communist propaganda purposes and by leading prison discussions which reflected opinions that the United Nations and the United States were illegal aggressors in Korea.

Fleming was acquitted of two other charges. These were that he informed on other prisoners and that he willingly and wrongfully injured a fellow prisoner by jumping on the foot of an American corporal.

The chief issue between prosecution and defense was whether Fleming's actions were justified under the duress to which he was submitted.

The court-martial began Aug. 20.

Holds Second Audience

Castel Gandolfo, Italy, Sept. 23 (AP)—Pope Pius XII, advised by physicians to slacken his activities to overcome his fatigue, held his second audience in two days today. The 78-year-old pontiff received a group of about 150 pilgrims from New Jersey in the consistorial haly at his Castel Gandolfo summer residence. He spoke a few words of benediction in the 15-minute audience. Vatican sources described the Pope's general condition as unchanged. For the past week he has experienced a slight return of the stomach ailment and hiccups which seriously weakened him last winter.

Indian Issue Nears Conclusion

By ROBERT KASMIRE

Albany, Sept. 23 (AP)—Segregation of Indian children in separate elementary schools is just about ended in this state.

The State Education Department this year signed contracts with seven school districts that will bring 1,535 children from seven of the state's eight reservations under the jurisdiction of the school districts in their areas.

The move, long a goal of Education Commissioner Lewis A. Wilson and others in the department, was carried out under terms of a law enacted by the 1954 Legislature.

IN EFFECT, the contracts give the seven school districts immediate responsibility for educating Indian children. Formerly, the state administered five reservation schools directly and provided education in the district public schools for the remaining Indian children, on a tuition-contract basis.

The school districts and the number of Indian youngsters involved this year (with reservations in parenthesis) includes:

Bellport Union Free, Suffolk county, 19 (Poospatuck) and Southampton Union Free, Suffolk county, 37 (Shinnecock).

IN THEORY, integration applies in both directions: Indian children sitting down in public school classrooms and non-Indian children attending what up to now have been private reservation schools.

But the classroom-space problem is such, an education department spokesman says, that there will be very few non-Indian children attending existing reservation schools.

Breadfruit trees were brought to Jamaica by Capt. Bligh, of "Mutiny on the Bounty" fame.

ONTEORA CENTRAL School—The science classes, under the supervision of Jules Viglielmo, Woodstock, have started this fall studying the use of detection instruments for atomic materials.

A professional model Geiger counter has been purchased for demonstration purposes. In addition to this, a number of monitoring devices have been placed in various places throughout the school plant and grounds.

It is expected an Atomic Energy Club will be formed and field trips will be taken to demonstrate the use of the Geiger counter.

Alabamans Are Hurt in Crash

Reading, Pa., Sept. 23 (AP)—An Alabama couple was injured yesterday and their car was demolished as it rammed into the rear of a gasoline tank truck on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, two miles west of Morgantown interchange.

Jacob W. Reid, 32, of Tuskegee, Ala., suffered possible internal injuries, bruises of the hands, right elbow and left hip, and his wife, Virginia, 25, fractured pelvis and ribs and cuts of the face. Their daughter, Pearl, 4, escaped injury.

State police said Mrs. Reid was driving the car west on the turnpike when she fell asleep and the vehicle crashed into the truck operated by Andrew Lawrence, 41, of Goshen, N. Y., who was unhurt.

Ike to Dish Up Stew

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower, an amateur chef of some note, will personally dish up beef stew to a roomful of luncheon diners in Denver next Monday. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson said yesterday at a meeting of the American Meat Institute and United Fruit and Vegetable Assn. that the President will turn chef to promote sale of meat and vegetables. Benson said the President also will make an important announcement at the Denver luncheon at the Cherry Hills Country Club, but "there will be no political flavor to it, whatever."

ARCH OF TRIUMPH—A triumphal arch is planned for Kiev to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the Ukraine's reunion with Russia. This ornate model was submitted in a contest to select a plan for the arch. Called "Star-Crowned Grain Ear," the model was submitted by six Moscow architects. "Saved $151.97 On Fuel In Year"

*Says Raymond C. Briggs

"We heated our 7-room home for only $140.12 a year after replacing our old boiler with a new G-E Oil Boiler. We saved over 50% on fuel and no longer pay extra for hot water!"

YOU, TOO, CAN SAVE MONEY!

GE OIL HEATING

Replace your Pickpocket Furnace with the famous fuel-thrifty G-E Oil Boiler. It actually pays for itself in fuel savings! Here's why:

Burns all the oil! G-E "Turn-Back Flame" gets most heat out of oil. Burns clean—completely. Economical for year 'round household hot water!

Heats home—not outdoors! G-E "traps" heat, keeps it from being wasted up chimney. Fast warm-up. Heats in 5 to 7 minutes from cold start.

Comfort you dream about!

SCHOOL DROP-OUTS

Educators are beginning to show deep concern over the number of high school students who drop out before graduation. They are conscious that this drop-out is a reflection on the schools as well as on the youngsters concerned.

In comparison to 50 years ago when large proportions of the youth population dropped out of school at the eighth-grade level or before, the situation today is incomparably superior. Certainly larger proportions of the young people in the United States finish high school than in any other country of the world. Yet, because democracy is so dependent on the educational level of its citizens, educators today are concerned over the number of youngsters who don't take advantages of all the schooling they can get.

These youngsters, unfortunately, aren't impressed with statistics showing that boys with high school diplomas earn 27 per cent and girls 54 per cent more than those with only an eighth-grade education. Teachers, though, are impressed with the fact that two-thirds of the frequent juvenile offenders are also school drop-outs.

Schools trying to combat this problem are handicapped by already-overworked teachers who have more than enough to do trying to take care of those pupils who do attend classes. They realize that actual and potential drop-outs require individualized courses that will awaken their interests at an early age, but lack the facilities for giving them.

Awareness of the problem is the first step in solving it. But solution requires more than lip service. Primarily it requires enlarged school facilities which will enable the teacher to take time out from her regular activities to attend to the problem child while not neglecting the other pupils under her care.

There seems to be a definite trend in the design of modern houses: the newer they are the longer they are—and the bigger the mortgage payments.

DESPERATE MEASURES

The sight of a traffic policeman, it is well known, has a healthy effect on drivers. They generally reduce their speed, and postpone weaving in and out of traffic. Unfortunately no city or state has enough officers available to patrol the roads everywhere. This justified the order issued by Governor G. Mennen Williams of Michigan that some 700 traffic specialists of the state National Guard should drive patrol cars up and down the roads over the Labor Day week-end. Nine aircraft were also assigned to watch specially dangerous highways.

This is said to be the first instance of such action by a governor. Figures of accidents are not yet available to show how much good it did, but it is bound to be helpful.

Perhaps we may be driven to double, triple or otherwise increase our traffic officials to avert the slaughter that holidays now bring too often. But it is also possible that we may learn, in time, to police ourselves.

The democratic method of self-control is always better than efforts at policing by the authorities. But as long as drivers take the childish attitude of trying to show off and beat the game, policing will be more and more necessary.

Perhaps the easiest—if not safest—way to handle an argument is to change the subject.

A STAGE FOR UN

A project is under way to bring arts as well as politics into the General Assembly Hall of the United Nations. A semi-circular, demountable stage will make possible the presentation of plays, ballet and symphonies at times when the General Assembly Hall is not in use for other purposes. One plan under consideration is to have Leopold Stokowski conduct a concert to inaugurate the use of the stage.

Artists have made occasional appearances at the United Nations headquarters but until now they have had to use whatever facilities were available. The idea of promoting arts within the United Nations is sound. One of its purposes is to develop understanding among the various peoples of the world. Arts offer a common ground on which peoples, however they may differ on politics, can seek that understanding.

ATOMS AND POLITICS

New weapons always alter not only the nature of war but the immediate objectives of diplomacy. Historic areas rise or fall in importance as the weapons for conquest or defense find greater range. When only the enemy on the border was a peril to the maintenance of a state, that peril might be removed by a diplomatic marriage, by gifts amounting to bribes for peace, by paying tribute or by pushing the enemy away from the border. The dynastic wars of Europe, following upon the death of Charlemagne and continuing to Napoleon, were generally of such a nature.

What are the borders of a country—any country—since the atom and hydrogen bombs have come into existence? For instance, the little country, Great Britain, 94,278 square miles, a group of islands off the coast of northwestern Europe, no longer has a natural defense. (Oregon is about 96,000 square miles, for comparison.) That defense used to be the English Channel, which had been crossed by Viking, Anglo-Saxon, Roman, Dane, and Norman, but not by Napoleon or Hitler. Nevertheless both the Kaiser and Hitler strafed England ferociously, using airplanes and high explosives. Today, civil life on those islands could be destroyed by nine or ten atom or hydrogen bombs hurled at London, Portsmouth, Liverpool, Birmingham, Hull, Glasgow, Manchester, Edinburgh.

And the job could probably be done in no time at all, either by Soviet Russia or the United States which are amply supplied with bombs for the purpose.

When a nation faces that reality, its diplomacy is modified to meet the situation. Granted the truth that every weapon of offense stimulates the development of counter-weapons of defense, the risk that Coventry could be repeated on so vast a scale that Great Britain might be reduced in a few hours forces upon those in charge of British foreign relations the necessity of avoiding, for as long as possible, a war that could be fought in her skies.

To the practical official, it matters little who permitted such a situation to develop. He is not necessarily an historian and he cannot afford to concern himself too much with his own or other people's blunders. That, perhaps, is why Sir Winston Churchill can still sleep at night. The practical statesman deals with what faces him today. And today, Sir Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden are faced by possible or probable extinction, for their country, should war come. Great Britain has for most of her history managed to fight her wars away from home. The past two wars were in her skies; the next war could destroy her. The British program is based on peace at almost any price.

Primarily the British are interested in trade, but their economic situation is not bad. The so-called "Dollar Gap" has been closed. British trade is thriving and British wares are being sold even in this country which are not essentially export commodities, for instance, bottled waters of various kinds.

If trade were the only consideration for the total change in British policy, it would be possible to develop considerable bitterness over the ingratitude and immorality of a nation of shopkeepers. The additional factor of the atom and hydrogen bombs and the other unconventional weapons which have been let loose upon mankind raises other isues than ingratitude. Dead nations, like dead men, are not problems in morals; they are merely records in the sands of time. And a nation that can be bombed to extinction has as its first task, survival. It dares not gamble on growth which in an effete era is called colonialism.

What is said of Great Britain is equally true of France and Italy, and while in this country we organize Civil Defense to meet the prospect, the more realistic French suspect that if the Russians do not bomb them, the Americans will. As a matter of fact, Europe's experience in World War II was that the United States bombed first and fastest in time of war and then gave money to repair the physical damage.

It is a serious problem for British, French and Italian statesmen to hold the friendship of the United States while avoiding the ravages of Soviet Russia. The way some of them go about it, they may lose out with both countries, which so often happens to those who are in the middle.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

DO SPORTSMEN DIE YOUNGER?

Every so often, particularly after the death of a well known athlete, we see arguments and articles in the press as to whether sportsmen die younger than those who have not gone in for athletics. Some interesting statistics on this subject were compiled by Sr. Alan Rock and reported in the British Medical Journal this year.

He made a comparison on the length of life of Cambridge sportsmen and scholars attending the University between 1860 and 1890. The number was almost 1500 and were divided as follows: 772 sportsmen including 187 cricketers, 178 rowing men and 217 rugby players; a group of 374 "intellectuals" (honor men); and 336 "randoms" (men "who had not distinguished themselves sufficiently either academically or as sportsmen to be included in the other groups").

What were the results? The average age at death varied very little! Sportsmen died at 67.97 years, intellectuals at 69.41 years, and randoms at 67.43 years. There was no appreciable difference among the different types of sportsmen; the average age at death was 67.41 for athletes; 68.13 for cricketers, 67.08 for rowers, 68.84 for rugby players and 67.43 for the random group.

These survival rates showed that up to the age of 40, the sportsmen had a slightly better prospect, perhaps due to the death of weaklings in the other two groups who were not of the type to indulge in sports. However, after the age of 40 there was very little difference beween the sportsmen and the randoms but the intellectuals had a slight but definite lead.

There was also some evidence that the prospect for long life of the heavily built men was not as good as for the more lightly built.

How about death from heart disease? Here again nothing was found to show that death from heart disease was more prominent among sportsmen than the other two groups. Percentages of deaths found due to heart disease was 36.4 for athletes, 31.5 for rowers, 37.2 for cricketers, 42 for rugby players, 39.9 for intellectuals and 41.5 for randoms.

Other interesting comparisons are that 97.9 per 1,000 of the sportsmen died from accident or war injuries, compared with 70.4 per thousand of the random group and 46.7 per 1,000 of the intellectual group. The suicide rate was 40.9 per 1,000 of the intellectuals and 8.6 per 1,000 of the remainder; almost five times as high in the intellectual group.

"Nothing Wrong That November Won't Cure"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—A new phase of the U. S. internal war on Communists will be launched in Chicago this fall with the trial of Claude Lightfoot under the membership clause of the Smith Act.

All of the 81 Communist Party functionaries who have been convicted so far have been tried under the conspiracy clause of the Smith Act. The specific charge has been organizing or helping to organize a "society, group, or assembly of persons who teach, advocate or encourage the overthrow or destruction of the government of the United States by force or violence."

The 10 Smith Act trials completed in the past six years plus three more still pending in New Haven, Cleveland and Denver have all been against groups of defendants involved in a conspiracy.

It being easier to bring the Communists to trial in bunches than separately, this pattern has been followed in all Smith act cases until the Lightfoot case came along.

THE EVIDENCE IN THIS CASE seemed to offer an opportunity for the government to institute a trial against a single Communist under the membership clause. This makes it unlawful for any person "to become a member of, or affiliate with, any such society, group or assembly of persons (advocating overthrow of the government by force or violence) knowing the purposes thereof."

In a membership case, the government must prove in every trial the subversive nature of the Communist Party, its advocacy of overthrow of the government, and the defendant's knowledge of these purposes together with his support of those objectives.

This is a time-consuming process. Even so, government attorneys believe this first membership case may be completed within six to eight weeks. The conspiracy trials have been running six to eight months.

Lightfoot was indicted on May 14, arrested June 26. The case will be set for trial before U. S. district court in Chicago at a hearing on Sept. 21. The case will be presented by U. S. Attorney Robert Tieken, with Assistant Attorney James D. Parsons and William O'Donnell of the Department of Justice.

SINCE LIGHTFOOT IS the first person to be tried under the Smith act membership clause, his case history is of some interest.

He is a Negro, 44 years old, born in Lake Village, Ark. His family went to Chicago during World War 1, and Claude Lightfoot went to the Colman Elementary School and Wendell Phillips High School in the Windy City.

He has no other known occupation than Communist official. Over 20 years ago he joined the Young Communist League. In 1934 he became a section organizer for YCL on Chicago's South Side. The next year, at 25, he went to Moscow as a delegate to the sixth Congress of the YCL International.

He returned to Chicago to become YCL state chairman from 1936-39. Then he was made educational director of the party for Illinois, with supervision over the workers' school in Chicago. In 1942 he became a member of the District Eight C. P. committee.

FROM APRIL, 1943, to November, 1945—during most of which period the U. S. Communist Party was disbanded, Lightfoot served in the U. S. Army. He became a supply technician, third class, in the Quartermaster Corps. He served two years in Europe but saw no action. But he got an honorable discharge.

The next year he was back in Chicago helping to reconstitute the party. In 1948 he listed himself as legislative chairman for Illinois. When Gilbert Green was convicted in the first Smith act trial in New York, and skipped bail, Lightfoot was named to succeed him as Illinois executive secretary.

At the December, 1950, convention of the party in New York, when its national committee was reduced from 55 to 13 members, Claude Lightfoot was named one of nine alternates. This is the position he holds today, as one of the leading American Communists.

Objection to Evidence on Other Senators' Practices Is Open to Criticism

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 23 — Just why Senator Watkins, chairman of the special committee considering "censure" charges against Senator McCarthy, refused to permit counsel for the Wisconsin senator to submit evidence concerning the practices of other United States senators will remain a mystery long after the so-called judicial hearing has passed into history.

If the other senators had been guilty of "offenses" punishable by the rules of the Senate, it would be understandable, because no man can plead immunity on the ground that someone else has also committed a crime. But precisely because what other senators have said and done in certain situations have never before even been considered by members of the Senate itself as "offenses," the refusal to admit such evidence is certainly open to criticism now.

If Senator Watkins regards the precedents that Senator McCarthy's lawyer wanted to bring in as irrelevant because, as the Utah senator said, the other senators were not now being investigated, does this mean that several U. S. senators who have done the same things as Mr. McCarthy must now face "censure" charges?

Perhaps the most significant illustration of the meaning of senatorial practice in dealing with uncooperative witnesses such as general Zwicker is to be found in an article written by Senaor Hugo Black of Alabama, who in the '30's was chairman of the Lobby Investigating Committee. He is the same man who is now an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Black wrote as follows in Harper's Magazine in February 1936:

"Whenever a congressional committee inspects the so-called private papers of a corporation official, the cry goes up that this is an outrageous invasion of the rights of private citizens. There are always plenty of newspaper apologists to join in the indignant protest."

Senator Black then quoted extensively from the evasive testimony of a public utility official, the late H. C. Hopson, and the Alabama senator in his article commented:

"This sort of thing taxes severely the patience of an investigator. It accounts often for what newspaper editorial enemies of investigations often refer indignantly to as the bullying and badgering of witnesses. The experienced examiner knows various methods must be used with different types of witnesses. After he has tried every technic, politeness, kindness, blandishments, coaxing, helping without effect, he is sometimes driven in the presence of a witness who is deliberately concealing the facts to attempt to shake it out of him with a more drastic attack."

How times have changed! Mr. Black now is on the highest court of the land, and presumably has a judicial mind or he wouldn't be there. Will the Senate now say that Hugo Black was wrong and that he stands "censured" before history as a man who "abused" uncooperative witnesses?

It will be recalled that Senator Black obtained for his committee, through an employe of the Federal Communications Commission, copies of some private telegrams out of the files of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals later said this was not a lawful seizure, but it also said that, when a Senate Committee got the information, it had a right to use it.

Nor did Senator Black think the markings "secret" or "confidential," when written on documents by the War Department, were important. The Alabama Senator says:

"In the munitions investigation (a Senate inquiry of which Mr. Black wasn't a member) something new was tried. A munitions manufacturer said its correspondence in many cases referred to government munitions business and that this was confidential to the government. It produced its papers under compulsion, but all over every document was "confidential by order of the War Department." Needless to say, the committee paid no attention to this stamp."

And who was the assistant counsel of that munitions committee? Why, it was Alger Hiss.

How times have changed! In other days it was all right to badger and abuse witnesses because they were from big business, and the so-called "Liberals" were doing the cross-examining. Likewise, it was all right to flourish secret documents which involved the security stamp of the army, but that was because the object was not to get at Communists in the government—only business men.

One wonders why the Watkins Committee wasn't interested in what Senator Williams of Delaware—a great public servant—got from Internal Revenue employes, enabling the government later to prosecute Internal Revenue officials, or in what other members of Congress got from executive employes, including one FBI report.

The Watkins Committee report is awaited with much interest, and there is great curiosity to know by what rule of jurisprudence the defendant is not permitted to introduce essential evidence to defend himself against charges which never were charges before under Senate practice.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 22 — Henry Morgenthau has had the gall to put his name to a form letter soliciting money from union boses for The Eleanor Roosevelt Fund. The letter says that the contributions will be "deductable for U. S. income tax purposes."

As secretary of the treasury, Morgenthau learned, if, indeed, he did not invent or help to invent, such tricks, which his fuehrer described as "clever little schemes having the color of legality."

It appears that the Eleanor Roosevelt 70th Birthday Committee is planning one of those political blue-plates at the Roosevelt Hotel and that this Fund is somehow implicated in this project. The relationship is left fuzzy in the solicitation.

A contribution slip is enclosed with Morgenthau's letter reading, "enclosed please find my contribution of $——to further Mrs. Roosevelt's important work in behalf of the United Nations." The Internal Revenue still is very lax in its application of the law to contributions which are sluiced into political activities.

There is a flagrant ruling in force just now in favor of Isadore Lipschutz's anti-Nazi League, whose activities have consisted largely of trying to discredit and defeat law-abiding, patriotic Americans. All this is officially deemed to be "educational."

I anticipate resistance should I apply for the same exemption of contributions to the Westbrook Pegler Memorial Library but in that case would cite the Eleanor Roosevelt and Lipschutz precedents.

Morgenthau's own immunity from congressional inquiry under a Republican administration would be a baffling mystery but for the fact that the Republican administration is only a receivership for the actual Republican party. Henry is in practical effect an Eisenhower Republican.

The "members" of the Eleanor Roosevelt 70th birthday committee include Gardner Cowles, the mock-Republican publisher of Look and other more or less reasonable facsimiles of the Henry Luce version of ethical journalism, and Paul G. Hoffman, the stuffed shirt who created Truman's ECA squanderbund of some 30,000 New Deal unemployables in Europe. Posing as a Republican, Hoffman published a revolting attack of Senator Bob Taft after Eisenhower's team of rustlers charged that Taft was trying to steal the Texas delegation. Cowle's wife, as befits the relative political usefulness of husbands, has received some petty European missions from Ike while Luce's wife has been making the United States and Luce ridiculous in Rome.

Morgenthau's brazenness in this promotion bespeaks a surrender by the Republican administration and its Congress to the inevitability of the Roosevelt concept of morals and responsibility. Henry knows he will never have to tell the historic truth.

Here is a prominent nonentity, promoted to power by a patronizing neighbor in the weird up-country sect of political queeries, daring to insult the Loyal American majority in spite of congressional findings that the worst traitor of them all was planted in the treasury under his management. Although Harry Dexter White betrayed the United States to the Russians in many sly ways, including the delivery of engraved treasury currency plates, Morgenthau has never been yanked down and forced to testify under the penalties for perjury.

It is perhaps idle to wonder how much Henry knew. He had five separate treasury intelligence units to get the goods on White and other treasury traitors whose power, though it seemed to exceed even his own, nevertheless was conferred by Henry Morgenthau.

It is possible that Roosevelt himself ordered him to accept White, who came from the same political team in Boston which also inflicted Alger Hiss on an unsuspecting nation.

And the Roosevelt woman has been a political accomplice of both Morgenthau and Frankfurter all these years. In fact, Weenie is named on the "committee" which is raising this fund by rattling the cup at the union rackets, along with Herbert Lehman, Anna Rosenberg, Sam Rosenman, Adlai Stevenson, Stu Symington, George Meany and the inevitable Oscar Hammerstein, II, whose approach to our political thoughts has been a masterwork of esthetic double-talk.

The Harry Dexter White case stopped dead at Henry Morgenthau's door. As an average American citizen, wouldn't you have hammered at the doors of all the committees and the newspapers all these years demanding a chance to tell the awful truth?

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—The New York Shipping Assn. has offered the International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.) an eight-cent hourly wage increase retroactive to Oct. 1, 1953, but the employers balk at a union demand to extend welfare fund retroactivity back to the same period. The association outlined its wage and welfare proposals yesterday in a telegram to the ILA. The union had no comment yesterday but was scheduled to meet today to discuss the offer. Present wages average $2.27 per hour.

McManus Up Again

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—John T. McManus, general manager of the leftwing weekly National Guardian, is the American Labor party's nominee for governor again this year. McManus previously was the ALP candidate 1950, when he got 225,000 votes. His selection was announced yesterday and party officials said he would be nominated at the ALP convention in Manhattan Center tonight.

Army Probing Conduct

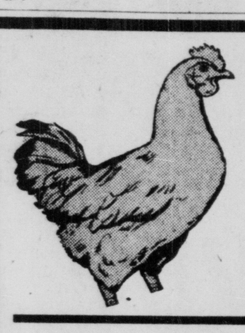

Fort Devens, Mass., Sept. 23 (AP)—The army says it is investigating 22 officers and enlisted men to determine if they will be charged with consorting with Communists while in Korean prisoner of war camps to curry favor with the enemy to gain extra food, clothing and privileges. All the men involved are stationed at Ft. Devens, either as hospital patients or in an unassigned status.

WINNER AND NEW CANDIDATE—Averell Harriman offers a victory wave and a broad grin to supporters after his choice in New York as Democratic gubernatorial candidate. Harriman's rival for the nomination, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., made the choice unanimous when he conceded in the face of overwhelming Harriman support at the State Democratic convention. (AP Wirephoto).

BRAWN DISPLAY—Showing off their fine forms in London, England, are Mrs. Rochelle Lofting, 19, and her three-year-old son, Gerald. He's a natural acrobat, taking after his father, Gerald, Sr., a movie stunt man.

HONOR MOM—Mrs. Anastasia Tsybizova, who has borne nine children, wears medals for the first, second and third-class of the "Motherhood Glory Order," awarded to Russian mothers. Over four million Soviet women have been decorated with the "motherhood medal" in a move to boost the birth rate. Photo and caption material from an official Soviet source.

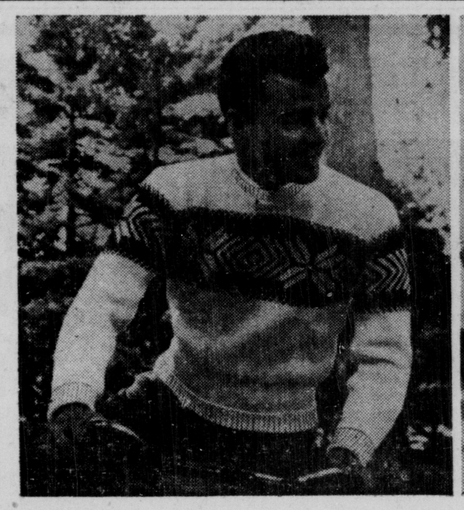

Embalmers Still Out

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—Mediation talks between striking embalmers and representatives of city funeral directors were adjourned with "very little progress" early today and no date was set for resumption of the talks, a spokesman for City Labor Commissioner Joseph O'Grady reported. Wage-hour demands of the union are a principal issue in the dispute.

Pleasant Weather Holds

(By The Associated Press)

There were some cool spots early today. But fairly pleasant weather appeared the outlook for most of the country on the first day of autumn. The summer season ended at 8:56 a. m. EST.

(Wool Bureau Photos)

WHITE WOOL SWEATERS have been adapted from the ski slope for campus and casual wear. The design band is scarlet and navy.

NEW KNITWEAR styling combines cardigan lines with slash pockets of leisure jacket in dark brown with beige wool knit bottom, collar and cuffs.

A Bit Heavy

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Israel Gaska Szymanska, merchant from Cochabama, Brazil, checked in here after a visit in the United States encumbered by 1,600 pounds of baggage over and above the minimum allowed each air traveler. It was believed to be a new world record for excess baggage. The eight huge double containers cost Szymanska $2,897.55 but he plunked down the money, saw his baggage loaded, and was on his way home in short order.

Extra 'Vegetable'

If you shudder to think of the vitamins and minerals going into your garbage can when you have lettuce and other salad materials that are just too passe to be tempting, use them this way. Tear the salad greens into pieces and cook them with a little boullion and butter or margarine. Makes an extra "vegetable" with your main course, and may include celery, carrots, escarole, or whatever you happen to have in the refrigerator.

Hot Potato

Council Bluffs, Iowa (AP)—You probably think potatoes and roses have little to do with each other. But at the J. F. Wilcox & Sons greenhouse here the spuds are a big help in raising roses. Every time new roses are planted at the nursery, the soil is sterilized. This is done by "cooking" the soil with steam pipes. The Wilcoxes bury a potato in each square foot of soil, and when the potatoes are "baked," the soil has been sterilized.

How to Attract Birds Is Subject

How to attract birds to our homes and gardens will be the topic of a countywide meeting sponsored by Ulster County Extension Service at New Paltz on Monday evening, Sept. 27.

The meeting will be held at the College Union Building, State Teachers College, at 8 p. m.

Dr. Heins K. Meng will be the speaker. Widely known as an authority on ornithology, he is a faculty member in the Department of Natural Sciences at the college.

Among the points to be discussed are ornamental plantings for birds, feeding stations, and construction of bird houses. Color slides and recordings of songs of common species will be included.

The meeting, planned by the Ulster County Home Bureau for inclusion in the programs of the units, is open to the public.

Wins Her Race

Ludington, Mich., Sept. 23 (AP)—Mrs. Alberta Bidwell won her race with the stork yesterday only because she had triplets. Two of the three boys—Tom, Dick and Harry—arrived under far from orthodox conditions. Tom was born in an automobile on the way to the hospital. Dick was born in an elevator on the way to the delivery room. Harry was more leisurely. He awaited a clinical reception and came into the world via the hospital delivery room. Mrs. Bidwell, 32, and her husband, Velmar, 35, have five other children, two sons and three daughters, ranging in age from two to 13.

To Assign Prosecutors

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 23 (AP)—New Jersey's county prosecutors will be assigned by Gov. Robert B. Meyner as "coordinators for enforcement" of traffic laws in a campaign to cut down highway facilities. Meyner said yesterday he would have the prosecutors assume these added duties "to maintain the uniformity and coordination" of traffic regulations.

Millens' Case Settled

The negligence action brought in County Court by Marvin I. Millens, this city, against Joseph H. Clark, Port Ewen, for damages to his car and for personal injuries, was settled after a jury had been selected and the case opened. Abraham Streifer appeared for plaintiff and Roy L. Featherstone for defendant.

Big Reception For Giants

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—A city hall reception is planned at noon next Monday for the National League champion New York Giants.

Mayor Robert Wagner, admitting he's a Giant fan, issued the announcement today.

"We are proud of our Giants just as we are proud of our Yankees and Dodgers," the mayor said. "But this is the Giants' year.

"We are all rooting for them to win so that the world's championship will stay right here in New York, the world's greatest baseball town and the greatest town in the world.

"Athletics and good sportsmanship are truly important factors in helping us bring up our children to be good citizens."

The Giants meet the Cleveland Indians in the first world series game at the Polo Grounds next Wednesday.

Thefts Are Reported

Two thefts from automobiles were reported to the police today and yesterday. Lorraine Hoenbeck, of 41 East Strand reported at 4:53 p. m., yesterday that a wheel and tire valued at $25 had been taken from her sedan while it was parked on Ferry street, and at 12:50 a. m., today Janice Eltinge, of 12 East O'Reilly street, reported the theft of a pair of white pumps from her sedan while it was parked in front of her home.

Club Owners to Meet

Chicago, Sept. 23 (AP)—American League club owners will meet in New York Tuesday to discuss the Philadelphia Athletics "situation," league President Will Harridge announced today.

May Require Time

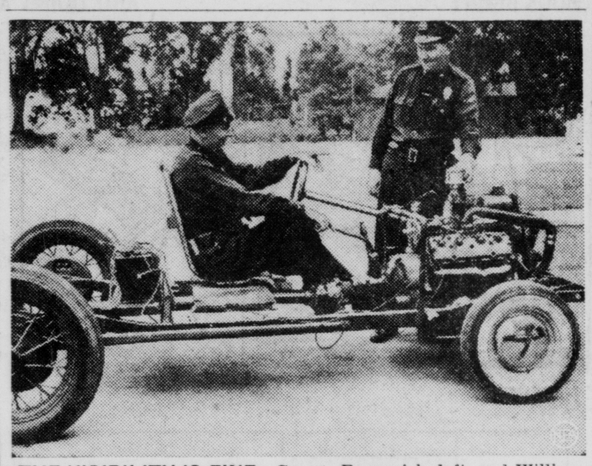

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP)—Republican leader Knowland of California advised Senate officers today that it may be several days before a decision is reached on when the Senate will reconvene to consider proposed censure of Sen. McCarthy.

Adds Zest and Flavor

Ever try adding some freshly-grated Parmesan cheese to a dressing for a tossed green salad? It adds zest and makes a pleasant flavor change.

NATIONWIDE WINNER—Miss Lorraine Mary Brode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clement Brode, a student in the eighth grade of St. Joseph's School, received first prize for her poem in honor of the Blessed Virgin in the national contest sponsored by Catholic Daughters of America. The poem had been awarded first prize in county then state, finally receiving first place throughout the nation. Miss Brode has been awarded $55 in prizes. (Freeman Photo)

THE VISIBILITY IS FINE—George Emmerich, left, and William Rowland, of the Brighton, N. Y., police force inspect a car that's really stripped down. The 16-year-old driver of the "hot rod" was arrested for driving without a muffler, windshield wipers, horn, adequate brakes, insurance, rear-view mirror and car registration. The car did have a motor.

Famed Artist

torino Respighi, who was his master in composition. He was awarded diplomas from the Royal Conservatory of Music, from the Royal St. Cecilia Academy and from the Pontifical School of Music. His solo career began at an early age and he conquered not only his native Italy, but England, Germany, Switzerland, South America and the United States and Canada. Recognition of his scholarship and high musical standards came when he was invited to head the organ department at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, a post he held for two years.

So far as organ students and players go, Germani's greatest achievement is his presentation of the complete organ works of Johann Sebastian Bach, Cesar Franck and Max Reger. This monumental assignment, he undertook for the first time in 1946, and the site was the magnificent St. Ignatius Church in Rome, made available by special permission from His Holiness, Pope Pius XII. The series was such a success that Germani has been obliged to repeat it several times, no only in Rome but in London's Westminister Cathedral and other centers. Further recognition from Pope Pius XII came when the pontiff awarded the organ virtuoso the Cross of Commander of St. Sylvester.

IN ADDITION to his original compositions for organ, Germani has revised and edited the complete organ works of Frescobaldi, who three centuries ago was the organist at St. Peter's, a position Germani now fills with distinction and honor. Germani also is the author of "A Method for the Organ," a voluminous text that is a several-volume guide for the organist, from his earliest student days to the highest levels of virtuosity. Germani also is a frequent contributor to musical periodicals. Respected and acclaimed for his scholarship and musicianship, in addition to his undoubted virtuosity, Germani's coming here Wednesday is a special event in the hearts and minds of lovers of the "king of instruments."

Will Go to Vote

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 23 (AP)—Voters will decide Nov. 2 whether New Jersey should float a 25 million dollar bond issue to finance a state medical-dental school. Gov. Robert B. Meyner signed a bill yesterday which puts the question on the ballot.

32 Persons Missing

New Delhi, India, Sept. 23 (AP)—A small river sailing vessel capsized on the Ganges last night and reports from Bhalgapur said 32 persons are missing. A passing river steamer rescued 22 others.

What every mother should know about babies

NOT SO GOOD BABIES

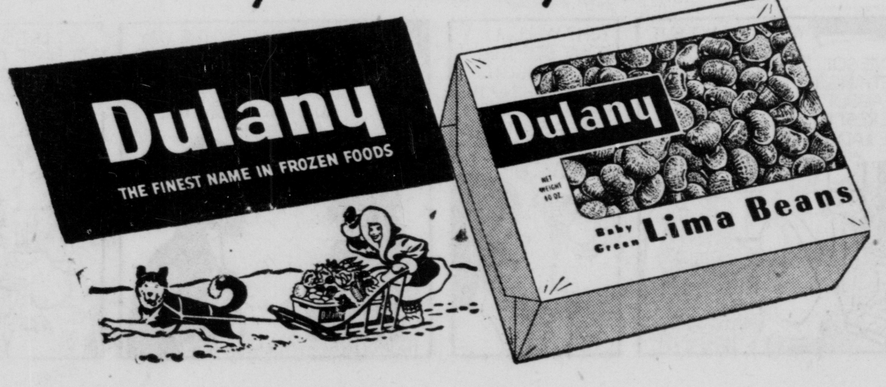

Baby lima beans, like midgets, can get too old to wear baby bonnets without getting too big. And when they do, they take on a starchy texture unknown to truly delightful baby lima beans. When you buy cheap frozen baby limas, you're likely to get starchy oldsters instead of succulent youngsters—and, of course, that's why you get them at such a low price.

EXTRA GOOD BABIES

When you make a point of asking for Dulany Frozen Baby Limas, you get limas so tender and juicy you almost wonder how they hold together. Picked at their tenderest best and quick-frozen within four hours from the time they wave good-by to their vines, Dulany Frozen Baby Limas have a goodness that's unforgettable. Yet they cost but pennies more than the not-so-good.

now you know Baby Limas

Happy Day

The sweetest words from mouth of man,
Reflecting love devout,
Are simply these: "Put on your hat,
Tonight we're eating out!"

* * *

A young couple that had received many valuable wedding presents established their home in a suburb. One morning they received in the mail two tickets for a popular show in the city, with a single line:

"Guess who sent them."

The pair had much amusement in trying to identify the donor, but failed in the effort. They duly attended the theatre, and had a delightful time. On their return home late at night, still trying to guess the identity of the unknown host, they found the house stripped of every article of value. And on the bare table in the dining room was a piece of paper on which was written in the same hand as the enclosure with the tickets.

"Now you know!"

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Men Attend Annual Minnewaska Retreat

Ellenville, Sept. 22—More than 50 men of the Dutch Arms Club of the Classis of Orange gathered at Wildmere House, Lake Minnewaska, recently for their second annual retreat.

The Rev. Raymond J. Pontier of Port Jervis and the Rev. William A. Irish of Ellenville led the devotional periods. W. Earl Rylance, of Kingston, presented the layman's challenge and Dr. Frederick Zimmerman gave the ministers' hopes in The Layman witnessing for his Christ and his Church.

During the dinner hour the Rutgers Glee Club gave several selections.

The next meeting will be the fall banquet, Wednesday, Oct. 27.

Officers are Milton P. Townsend of Napanoch, president; C. Henry Seeley, Warwick, vice president; Elmer B. Cokelette, Ellenville, secretary and Robert L. Morris, Montgomery, treasurer.

Shawangunk Garden Club Has Meeting

Ellenville, Sept. 22—The Shawangunk Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. John Lathrop in Kerhonkson.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Anna T. Henninger, who announced that course two in judging would take place Oct. 19, 20 and 22 at the Cornwall Town Hall and that the fall meeting of the New York Federated Garden Clubs will be held at Lake Placid Sept. 26-28.

The Ulster County Garden Club has invited members to attend a water conservation meeting at the Bevier House in Marbletown Oct. 12 at 2:30 p. m. The speaker will be James E. Lawrence of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association.

Miss Henninger, as delegate, will attend the fourth conference of the Third District at Lake Minnewaska Oct. 14. Mrs. Vincent Roy is the alternate. Mrs. Roy and Mrs. Frank Low of Kerhonkson, will each make a mantle arrangement for the conference. An invitation has been extended to all members to attend, but local reservations must be made with Mrs. Percy Goldsmith before Oct. 9. Lunch will be served at 12:30.

After the business meeting George White of Louisville, Ky., showed slides of his European trip.

Refreshments were served by the hostess with Mrs. William L. Douglas pouring.

Century-Old Items Viewed at Library

Ellenville, Sept. 23—Articles used in this vicinity about 100 years ago are now on display in the main reading room of the Ellenville Public Library where they will remain until Oct. 8.

Loaned by the Misses Margaret and Nellie Newkirk, the collection includes a hair wreath, foot warmer, curling iron, razor and razor strop, hand made chopping knife, ladles, pegs, nails, brick, wooden forms for shoes and various school articles, in addition to old pictures, head coverings and numerous household implements used by the early settlers in this section.

Talk on India Given To Bureau Members

Ellenville, Sept. 23—Mrs. William J. Haggerty of New Paltz, who accompanied her hurband, the president of New Paltz State Teachers College to India in 1952-1953 on his educational advisory mission for the U. S. government, presented India in a talk, illustrated by colored slides to Ellenville Home Bureau members and their guests at the opening covered dish supper meeting at the Ellenville Dutch Reformed Church.

The subject of medical aid courses in civil defense, introduced by the chairman, Mrs. E. Boyce TerBush, was discussed by the members, and the unit voted to sponsor these courses in Ellenville.

Projects for the year were outlined by the leaders in aluminum trays, basketry, fabric bags and gloves, lamp shades and bases, and making a dress from the new fabrics. Any member desiring to join the aluminum tray class is requested to contact Mrs. George Christensen, Jr.

At the Oct. 5, meeting, a speaker from Kingston will address the Ellenville Unit on Social Security.

Going-Away Party Held for Student

Ellenville, Sept. 23 — More than 30 persons attended a going-away party given by the senior choir of Christ Lutheran Church for Mary Ruth Schaffer at the church Thursday night.

Miss Schaffer won a $900 scholarship for Hartwick College at Oneonta and Mary Bassett Hospital at Cooperstown where she will study to become a nurse.

Entertainment was in charge of Miss Florence Randell, Mrs. Oakley Evans and Mrs. K. Crawford. Refreshment tables were decorated with autumn flowers, streamers and candles, and the committee was headed by Mrs. Roger Freiderburgh and Mrs. Dorothy Johnson.

A leather portfolio, a gift from the choir, was presented by Mrs. A. B. Wright.

Miss Schaffer left Sunday for Oneonta. She will attend the freshman camp at Lake Otsego, Cooperstown, prior to the opening of school.

Lady Cops

Jackson, Mich. (AP)—Women are replacing Jackson policemen as parking meter checkers on city streets. The City Commission has approved the hiring of women meter checkers as an economy measure in order to relieve regular members of the police force for other duties.

Home-Grown Cans

Honolulu (AP)—Henry A. White, president of Hawaiian Pineapple Co., said the company is considering construction of its own plant to manufactuer tin cans for its Honolulu factory. "Proposals submitted to date by the American Can Co. have fallen short of providing the savings which our studies indicate to be possible from the self-manufacture of cans," White reported to stockholders.

On the Ball

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—When startled persons described strange creatures which they saw roaming the municipal golf course at night, police theorized that prowlers had donned frogmen suits to dive for golf balls in the three ponds on the course.

Weekly Food Review

By The Associated Press

Fresh-killed turkeys, ready-to-cook fryers, boneless chuck roast and hickory-smoked hams are among the best buys available on meat counters this week in food stores across the nation.

Pork prices have climbed again in many areas, along with lamb and veal.

Beef is up in some sections of the country, down in others. Supplies of frying, broiling, roasting and fricassee chickens are at or near all-time highs, and prices continue to move lower. Chicken raisers say prices —now substantially below the levels of a year ago—will drop still more unless the government steps in with a poultry price support program.

HINTS OF possible government price props have given a potent lift to egg prices recently —and the upward trend was clearly discernible at the retail stage this week. In some cities large grade "A" whites were up as much as ten cents a dozen from the week before. However, the Poultry and Egg National Board notes that egg prices are still about 19 cents a dozen under year-ago quotations.

Turkey is being featured by several nationwide food chains, with both the large (over 16 pounds) and small varieties appearing on "week-end special" lists. But pork, lamb and veal are conspicuously absent."

Outstanding produce buys listed by marketing specialists include sweet potatoes, cabbages and peppers. They are in plentiful supply in most parts of the country, and the quality is generally good.

BUTTERNUT and acorn squash can also be had this week at moderate prices, along with beets, escarole, endive, lettuce, beans, celery, onions, white potatoes, spinach, cauliflower and Canadian Yellow turnips.

Red tokay grapes are being heavily promoted. Standout buys in the apple family are headed by the various "cooking" varieties, such as Wolf river, Rhode Island Greenings and Northwest Greenings. The season's first cranberries are available, but prices are still comparatively high. Limes constitute the best buy in the citrus fruits division.

The season for prunes, plums and peaches has just about run its course, but bargains are still available in some sectors.

There was encouraging news for coffee drinkers. The roasting company executive who predicted the big mid-August coffee price break, President William Black of Chock Full O'Nuts said Brazilian prices are meeting stiffening resistance in this country.

Bored With Retirement

Grand Rapids, Mich. (AP)—Fred West, 75, has given up retirement. He's decided to go back to his old job of weed cutting and drain cleaning with the Kent County Road Commission. West, who was on the job for 40 years, said his retirement lasted only three weeks. "When I found all I was supposed to do was lie around," he said, "I couldn't take it. It finally bored me to such an extent that I had to go back to work."

SWEETY PIE By NADINE SELTZER

"They gave me a new place on the team—it's called 'left out'!"

Gardener's Choice

Oklahoma City (AP)—Eight-year-old Ann Dexter decided she wanted her own flower garden this year and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dexter, were happy to let their daughter go down to the store and pick out her seed. While helping his daughter clean out her flower bed this week, Dexter noticed some of the blooms on the plants looked peculiar. He checked further and found several cotton plants were growing in the garden. Ann couldn't explain how she got the cotton seed but she's waiting anxiously now to harvest the crop.

Unwelcome Guest

New York (AP)—Maybe next time Thomas Tindall, 15, of Fort Wadsworth, Staten Island, will build a birdhouse with a smaller hole. Tommy built his birdhouse, nailed it up in an apple tree in his backyard 14 feet from the ground, then hopefully waited. Then he found the birdhouse had a tenant—a cat! Tabby now wanders off but always comes back. "It seems very contented," said Tommy's mother, Mrs. Frank C. Tindall, ruefully: "I guess it will make its home up there."

Every year, right after school opens, we let our younger son give a "Back-to-School Party." This little celebration, attended by his school friends makes the new term very important.

His mother prepares a large amount of slumgullion ("slum" to the boys) made of boneless chuck. It is served on hamburger rolls. With it there is a green salad, bottled soft drinks (lots of them) in a large ice bucket, and a fortune cake. Simple enough but the menu is just what the young scholars ordered.

Slumgullion
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

Four slices bacon, diced, 1 medium-sized onion, sliced thin, 1 medium-sized green pepper, cut in small pieces, 1 pound lean boneless chuck beef, cut in 1-inch cubes, 1 teaspoon salt, 3½ cups canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ¼ pound processed American cheese, shredded (about 1 cup), 4 to 6 hamburger rolls.

In a large, heavy skillet, combine bacon, onion, green pepper, beef and salt. Cook over moderate heat about 10 minutes, or until mixture begins to turn brown, stirring occasionally. Add tomatoes and Worcestershire sauce, mixing thoroughly.

Cook over low heat 45 to 50 minutes, or until beef is tender; stir occasionally. If mixture becomes too thick, stir in a little lukewarm water. Remove from heat and stir in cheese, mixing until cheese is completely melted. To serve, cut rolls in halves and toast cut sides. Arrange 2 halves on each plate, toasted slumgullion over them. Serve sides up. Then pour piping-hot immediately.

TOMORROW'S MENU: Panbroiled liver and crisp bacon, whipped potatoes, broiled tomato halves, soft rolls or enriched bread, butter or margarine, prune and cream cheese open-face pie, coffee, tea, milk.

CAN WE INVITE OURSELVES?

A wife tells me this morning: "Last fall some of our friends visited us and at that time pressed a very warm invitation upon us to come to see them. They have a very lovely house in the country and we would like to spend some time with them when my husband has his vacation. However, we have not had any further invitation from them since. Would it be taking advantage of them to write and frankly ask whether it would be convenient for them to have us and to mention a definite time?"

Since they have not written you and suggested your visiting them, you certainly cannot write and suggest staying with them, but you might write a friendly letter in which you could give the date you would be passing through the place they live. As their original invitation was a warm one, you can ask if you may stop in for lunch with them. It will then be up to them either to say they will be away that day or to say they will be delighted to see you.

What Kind of Wedding Invitation?

Dear Mrs. Post: I am not going to dress as a bride but am being married in a large church and would like to invite many friends and all our relatives. The number makes it very difficult to invite people verbally and by personal notes, and yet someone told me that I could not send formally engraved invitations to a wedding at which the bride is not to be dressed in bride's clothes. Is this true?"

Answer: It will be unusual but there is no rule against it.

Showing Appreciation

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were entertained rather lavishly by business friends of his in another city. It was strictly business, however, even though on one or two occasions the wives of the men were also with us. Since I have been home I've been wondering whether there is anything I ought to do to show any personal appreciation of their generous hospitality, and if so, to whom and what?

Answer: If any parties were given by their wives, then you should write to them; but in return for parties given by the men, it is not necessary.

Is it proper to wear veils in the evening? Is card leaving at afternoon teas necessary? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-18, "An Etiquette Test," answers your questions. To obtain a copy send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

What a flavor! What a woman!

Billy McGuire eats 33 pieces of bread and Mrs. Filbert's a week. What a stack! He just loves Mrs. Filbert's Margarine.

"My margarine is my own recipe. I make sure it always tastes fresh and sweet. Your kids will pile it on, too."
Mrs. M. V. Filbert, Pres.

● Fresh. Fresh. Fresh. So delicious folks say it tastes better—yes, better!—than the most expensive spread. "It's my own recipe," says Mrs. Filbert, "and I'm mighty fussy about it." So tender it spreads smooth even ice-cold—won't tear holes in freshest bread. 15,000 units of Vitamin A in every pound. And what a taste! Eat some today.

C of C Discusses Christmas Lighting

New Paltz, Sept. 23—During the recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce representatives of various organizations met to discuss plans for Christmas street lighting. The idea presented was that all groups work together with the Chamber, thus accomplishing more than one group could working alone.

Decorations would be permanent and could be added to each year. They would belong jointly to the Chamber and the community.

Plans were discussed for a Halloween festival for the community atnd Mrs. Veronica Luczai was appointed chairman of the program.

Mayor Robert Reid was accepted as a member of the Chamber.

Library Directors Revive Card Party

New Paltz, Sept. 23 — The board of trustees of the Elting Memorial Library decided at the September meeting to revive the annual benefit card party. The party will be held at the library Tuesday, Oct. 12 at 8 p. m. There will be refreshments.

The limited space at the library makes it necessary to restrict the sale of tickets to 20 tables. Those planning to attend may reserve tables from any of the following: Miss Jennie Dann, librarian; Ralph Buchanan, Miss Rebecca McKenna, Mrs. Janet Bracken, Mrs. Clifford Hoppenstedt, Mrs. Louis DuBois, Mrs. William Porter, Mrs. Faye LeFevre, Francis Sullivan and Charles Morhrke.

Law Abiding Texans

Fort Davis, Tex. (AP)—Twelve men marched from the district courtroom to the grand jury room. Three minutes later they returned and told Judge Louis Reed, in effect, "No crime, no business," and were discharged. The San Angelo Standard-Times reported it the shortest grand jury term on record in Jeff Davis county.

Cold, Bluish Light Gets Attention of Scientists

(The phosphorescent light of the sea has fascinated man since time began. Now scientists suspect that there may someday be wonderful uses for the knowledge of what causes such light. This is another story of unusual studies at a Massachusetts marine laboratory.)

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

Woods Hole, Mass., Sept. 23 (AP)—The mystery light of the dark seas sprang into glowing bluish light as the scientist mixed two chemicals in a blackened room.

It shone brightly in the glass beaker, irridescent, lighting faintly a whole corner of the room.

This was exactly the light you see in sea water if you swim at night or watch as a boat knifes through the water.

It's the light like that—except for color—from yellow fireflies. Or from dead tree stumps glowing in the dark because of fungi growing on them.

It is bioluminescence, chemical and cold light which nature has granted to many living things, especially in the sea.

MAN HAS BEEN intrigued with this natural light from the time of his earliest observations and wonderings about his world. Now science is beginning to find the explanation, and perhaps some day some marvelous uses for it.

Mysteries for this cold light are being explored by Dr. E. Newton Harvey of Princeton University and associates who spend their summers here at the Marine Biological Laboratory working with these lamp-bearing animals and organisms from the sea.

Two chemicals create the light — luciferin and luciferase, an enzyme or accelerator of chemical reactions. Both have been isolated in pure form from a tiny crab-like creature, cypridina, which is one of the main illuminators of the sea. Fireflies produce their light from the same two chemicals, but the luciferin of fireflies is probably different from that of these crustacea.

THESE SEA ANIMALS, about the size of big bird seed, can be kept in the dried state, and will give off light when ground by mortar and pestle and mixed with water.

By careful chemical treatment, their luciferin can be extracted and also their luciferase. When these two liquids are mixed, you get the wondrous glow as though thousands of the animals at once were lighting the sea.

In life, these animals shoot their luminescence out into the water as a boat passes or the water is disturbed. Why they do it is a conundrum—perhaps to warn their fellows away.

Fireflies apparently use their flashing light to attract boy and girl fireflies together. Numerous little fish living in ocean depths carry headlamps and other lights. Perhaps, Dr. Harvey speculates, the position of the lights provide identification for romance in the blackness of the deep.

THERE IS ONE form of worm, which lives in the mud inside a tube, which can make itself luminescent. Eels seek it out, but it may turn on its light to frighten the eel away.

A relative of the jelly fish, Mnemiopsis, the size of a silver dollar or larger, is another common lamp-lighter of the sea, glowing with a green hue. Why it has a light is hard to answer, Dr. Harvey says, for it has no known enemies, nor does it seek out prey itself.

Dr. Joseph J. Chang, of Princeton University, originally from South Korea put a bit of this jelly-like creature in a darkened box, so electric shocks could stimulate its light-producing cells. The light was picked up by a photocell, amplified and turned into electric current, producing pips or bounces on a recording screen.

The light-giving reaction is like the twitch of a muscle, and like a muscle the light cells will grow tired and weak from repeated performance. Can this reaction of sea-light help tell science more about the workings of the human engine of muscle? That is one purpose of the studies.

SOME TYPES of bacteria glow in the dark. Some find their homes in special organs of certain fish. The bacteria need that kind of home in order to live, and the fish apparently need the bacteria, perhaps for supply of some essential nutrients of life, or perhaps to supply them with light.

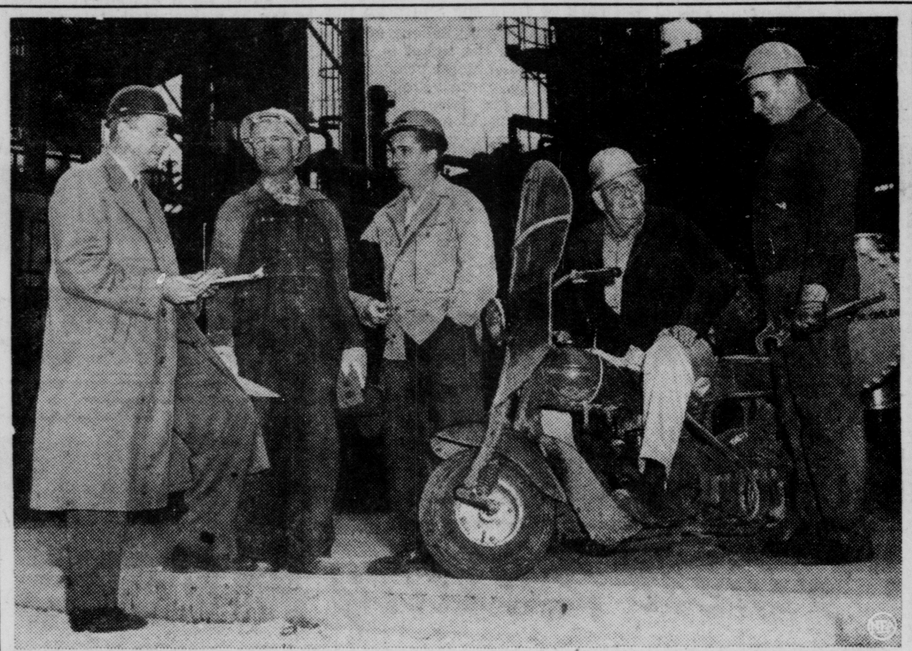

These bacteria seem to oxidize or add oxygen to A B vitamin, riboflavin, in some special way to produce their light, Dr. Harvey explains.

Dr. Frederick I. Tsuji of Princeton University, a Hawaiian-American, is working on purification and chemical study of luciferin obtained from the tiny crab-like animals. Dr. Aurin M. Chase of Princeton is analyzing luciferase in efforts better to understand and recreate the cold light.

IF THEY COULD BE made synthetically—and there is a good chance that luciferin might be duplicated—then man could solve the secret of another engine of life.

Our lamps are inefficient, producing heat as well as light. Does nature hold the secret for better or special lights by which to see? Would it just satisfy a challenge from nature to learn the answers to bioluminescence? Or could it lead to advantages and uses still unforeseeable?

Scientists working on this and a hundred other projects cannot foretell. They do know that facts learned from basic research such as this often supply the key or clue to someone working to develop something for peace, or medicine or human good.

MEET HIZZONERS—Checking up on its 3800 employes, the Shell Oil Refinery at Wood River, Ill., discovered that among them there were five mayors. All hold office in communities within a 25-mile radius of the plant. Pictured as their paths crossed, they are, left to right: G. L. Moorman, Jr., engineering office, mayor of Edwardsville; Brickmason W. K. Miller, of Bunker Hill; W. H. Jenkins, of Worden, a cracking department operator; W. R. Armes, of Roxana, dispatching department foreman, and W. H. Helfer, of Glen Carbon, a cracking department operator.

Oops!

New Haven, Conn. (AP) — Aldo DeDominicis, general manager of WNHC-TV, unwittingly knocked his own station off the air for a few seconds. Inspecting new equipment at the station's television transmitter, DeDominics became so engrossed that he didn't notice a sign reading "KEEP OUT" on a door. He opened it. That's when every receiver tuned to the station went blank. As a safety precaution, the door is fitted with a device which shuts off the station's power the instant it is opened.

Speedy Sheriff

Morristown, N. J. (AP)—If you get in trouble in Morris county, don't try for a fast get-away. Sheriff Arnold Ladd is an amateur car racer. His English MG-TC racer has got not only speed—but endurance as well. Ladd came in seventh in the recent 12-hour endurance grind for sports cars at Linden. And the sheriff does it all despite an artificial leg. He lost his right leg when his jeep hit a land mine in North Africa during the war.

Shandaken

Shandaken, Sept. 23—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hogstrom of Oswego spent the weekend at the home of Mr. Hogstrom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hogstrom. Mr. Hogstrom holds a professorship at Oswego State Teacher's College.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rosa and Mr. and Mrs. Percy White spent the week vacationing in Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jansen and Miss Addie Jansen of Lanesville called on Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cleveland Friday.

W. C. Hummell has returned home after spending several weeks in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bell and son, David of Poughkeepsie, were weekend guests of Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hummell.

Felix Van Valkenburg is a patient at Margaretville Hospital. He underwent an operation last week.

Mrs. F. S. Osterhoudt spent the weekend as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cornish in Stone Ridge.

F. M. Cleaveland is serving as court officer this month in Kingston.

Mrs. Harry Hogstrom has returned home after a week's visit in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckman are entertaining their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Buckman of Mt. Airy, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Yerry have moved into the former home of Mrs. A. J. Lea which they recently purchased. They will continue the newspaper and magazine business which Mrs. Lea conducted for many years. Mrs. Lea has moved to Kingston.

Summer crowds have gone!

NOW IS THE TIME TO VISIT HOWE CAVERNS

This week end bring the family, explore over a mile inside the earth, and ride on the lake 200 feet underground. It's an education for all in one afternoon. Children under 12, when with a parent, are admitted free. Top off your visit with lunch in the new hill-top restaurant.

A pleasant way to spend a Fall day. Take the N. Y. Thruway to Catskill. Then on Rt. 23 and 145 to the Caverns. A trip you cannot afford to miss. Make it this week.

President . . .

cal handshaking. In Missoula Democratic Rep. Lee Metcalf turned up to greet the chief executive. So did Metcalf's GOP opponent, Winfield E. Page.

In his Missoula speech Eisenhower continued to follow the pattern of restrained campaigning which he announced months ago he would stick to.

HE STILL REFRAINED from plugging on the road for individual Republican candidates, but he did refer to "my good friend Wes" after GOP Rep. Wesley D'Ewart had introduced him. But he said nothing about D'Ewart's candidacy for the Senate. He is running against the veteran Democrat incumbent, James M. Murray.

At the airport in Walla Walla, which is about 60 miles from McNary Dam, Eisenhower had a hearty handshake for Republican Sen. Guy Cordon of Oregon, who is getting a challenging fight from his Democratic foe, Richard L. Neuberger.

Also at the airport were Gov. Arthur Langlie of Washington and Gov. Paul Patterson of Oregon, both Republicans. Neither is up for re-election this year.

The President will fly back to Denver tomorrow after addressing the AFL convention in Los Angeles.

Vols to Discuss

Sunday's meeting to discuss plans.

VOLS TO DISCUSS—(2) — —

Henry Kelsch, secretary of the firemen's convention committee, urges all interested in the affair to be present Sunday, and E. Frank Flanagan, heading a group of business and industrial men to help raise money for its promotion, hopes to have a large representation present.

President Thomas F. Coughlin of the Kingston City Veteran Volunteers Association, which is interested with the 10 volunteer fire companies here in promotion of the convention is stressing the importance of the meeting to his organization, as is Raymond Radel, secretary.

SEVERAL EVENTS, including a carnival, have been held to help raise convention funds, and a pancake dinner is scheduled for October 28 at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, at a nominal price. Servings will be from 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 o'clock, and from 5 p. m. until all have eaten.

Aunt Jemima, talented entertainer, representing the company which is donating the pancake flour freee, will be here for personal appearances to promote the dinner.

Rodney DuBois, chairman of the dinner, has reported ticket sales as encouraging, and is certain that all or more than the 2,000 offered for sale will be purchased by public spirited citizens interested in helping the convention fund.

Dirksen Blasts Rule

Los Angeles, Sept. 23 (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) told 1,100 Republican women last night that "never were the destroyers and traitors in government so busy" as during the 20 years of Democratic rule. He said it has been no picnic for the Republicans to seek out "the wreckers and destroyers, the security risks and homosexuals, the blabbermouths and drunks, the traitors and saboteurs" in government.

Promise Is Made

Denver, Sept. 23 (AP)—Charles F. Murphy, new code administrator for the nation's comic books industry, promised last night to rid the newsstands of comic book "trash." He told a press conference all horror and terror comic books "have to go" and characters in the books placed on sale will be dressed in a manner reasonable and acceptable to society.

RIDING HIGH—Some 300 feet above a Miami, Fla., street, a trio of German aerialists perform a breath-taking balancing act on a cable stretched between two hotels. Known as the Zugspitzartisten troupe, they did the act for benefit of crippled children's society.

$85,000 Is Goal

nated, resulting in closer cooperation."

The Kingston Area Community Chest agencies serve all of Kingston and the area immediately contiguous to it.

It is pointed out by the board of directors of the chest that this area has approximately 40,000 people and is increasing in population very rapidly, a growth which "places an ever increasing burden on the youth and social agencies of our community. In spite of this fact, the work of the Community Chest agencies reaches and influences every segment of our community life."

THE BUDGET for 1955 follows: Boy's Club, $6,800; Boy Scouts, $10,000; Girl Scouts, $5,000; Jewish Community Center, $10,000; Salvation Army, $7,800; YMCA, $18,500; YWCA, $11,800; Community Chest administration for 1955, $6,600; campaign expense (1954), $4,000, and contingencies, $4,500.

It is pointed out that the administration of the Community Chest during the first year of operation represents about 7.5 cents of the Chest dollar. This expenditure is used for maintenance of a small staff on a year-round basis at Community Chest headquarters in the YWCA, 209 Clinton avenue, for the purpose of providing a budgeting and auditing service for agencies, collecting money pledged on the installment plan and in turn making monthly payments to member agencies for operating costs.

It is the experience of Community Chests that the item of $4,500 for contingencies should be added to each budget for covering those pledges which are not paid because of moving away, death, lack of employmet and such other contingencies as are always present in any span of time. This represents about five cents per dollar raised.

Three Kinds of Dikes

The three kinds of dikes in Holland are: "Watchers," the big ones standing in the sea to fend off first assaults of waves; "sleepers," the second line of defense behind the "watchers;" and the "dreamers," the last-resort defenders of individual farms.

Roosevelt Has

of the Kings County Surrogate's Court.

For chief judge of the Court of Appeals—Albert Conway of Brooklyn, an associate judge.

For associate judges of the Court of Appeals—Charles S. Desmond of Buffalo, Adrian P. Burke, New York city corporation counsel, and John Van Voorhis of Irondequoit.

Although the placing of Roosevelt on the ticket was received with general acclaim among the delegates, there was grumbling from delegates from several upstate counties when they learned the makeup of the slate.

THEY NOTED that it did not contain a single candidate, for administrative offices, from central, northern or western New York or from the Southern tier.

The only non-resident of New York city on the ticket is Harriman, whose official residence is in Orange county, where he maintains an estate. He also maintains residences in New York and on Long Island.

The murmurs were not stilled by State Chairman Richard H. Balch's assertion that it was "the finest ticket the Democrats have ever presented to the voters."

BALCH TOLD reporters that he stood on a statement made when he was elected state chairman, that candidates were not going to be picked on the basis of geography or race; that they were to be selected on "the basis of character and ability."

Harriman brought the convention to a close with an acceptance speech in which he predicted a "great victory" and said the central issue of his campaign would be "Republicanism."

The former mutual security administrator defined "Republicanism" as "a certain outlook on life—a backward look, if you like—cramped, narrow, joyless and, above all, fearful."

He said that "Republicanism" contained a philosophy that "is essentially distrustful of equality and fraternity."

Expert Advice

Dallas (AP) — The safest place during an electrical storm is indoors, a weather expert says. Meterologist M. C. Harrison of the Weather Bureau says a person caught outdoors during lightning should stay away from such well grounded objects as metal fences or isolated trees. Better shelter is in a ravine or in the open. A grove of trees is fairly safe. Inside, you should stay away from plumbing fixtures.

Dache's Success Formula

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—Want to make a strong impression on your next date, girls? Try some of the new golden leg makeup and mauve, green and gold face powders introduced by designer Lilly Dache yesterday at her fall millinery showing. The Dache models were togged out in hats and costumes keyed to the color of the hair and the new makeup. Miss Dache said the leg makeup, worn beneath sheer stockings, will "continue the shimmer."

Cottons for autumn come in deep colors, often have added attraction of small jacket. Gingham plaid (left) is in muted orange and purple, has touch of white at neckline, pleated bodice. Jumper dress in brown-and-white cotton tweed (right) is topped by trim, tabbed jacket. Both designs are by Helen Whiting.—By Gaile Dugas, NEA Women's Editor.

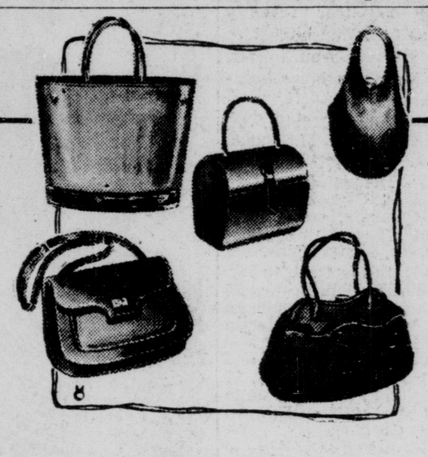

Two designs for fall from Paris demonstrate the pretty, easy lines that characterize many of the fashions here. Slim dress by Jacques Heim (left) is lightweight wool with hip line emphasized by scarf ends. Two-piece dress in iron-gray flannel (right) is by Jacques Griffe, has black-and-silver buttons arranged in long, descending V. Sides have very light draping.—By Rosette Hargrove, NEA Staff Correspondent, Paris.

Can't Accept, He Insists

Ansonia, Conn., Sept. 23 (AP)—Stephen Zuraw says he can't accept the Republican nomination he won Monday to run for alderman. His reason: He isn't a registered Republican, and besides he is supporting the Democratic candidate for mayor. The Republicans decided they'd better get another nominee.

Tip on Broiling Bacon

When you are broiling bacon, it's a good idea to use a rack in a shallow pan. Place the fat edge of each slice so it overlaps the lean edge of another slice. Broil several inchs from source of heat about three minutes on each side, turning once.

CLOROX® makes linens more than white ... it makes them sanitary, too!

You'll be proud of your children's cotton and linen school clothes when they're Clorox-clean ...for Clorox removes dinginess, stains, even scorch and mildew. And your children will be safer, too...for Clorox provides added health protection. No other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

And Clorox is so gentle, millions use it regularly even in hand laundering. Free from caustic and other harsh substances, Clorox is made by an exclusive, patented formula. Also, Clorox, a liquid, contains no gritty particles to damage wash and washer. Clorox leaves clothes fresh-smelling, too.

A CLOROX-clean bathroom means added family health protection!

Bathroom surfaces such as wash basin, toilet bowl and shower floor can easily become germ centers, potential sources of infection. Routine bathroom cleaning with Clorox not only removes stains and deodorizes, it disinfects...provides a type of disinfection recommended by public health departments. See the Clorox label for these and many other health protection uses.

You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!

1. Snowy-white linens... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors... Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens...Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes.
5. Sanitary linens... Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.

When it's CLOROX-clean...it's SAFER for family health!

No More Complaints

Anderson, Ind. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garringer have stopped complaining about the hot weather. An explosion believed caused by gas in the basement shook their home but the Garringers and their two small children escaped injury. Firemen said windows open because of the heat prevented a worse explosion.

Faulty Flip

Emporia, Kan. (AP)—It took more than a flip of a coin to settle some ties in the primary election balloting for Democratic precinct committee posts in Lyon county. Write-in votes were made for several jobs for which no regular candidate had filed. In some instances tie votes resulted. It was discovered belatedly that three of the write-in winners after the coins were tossed were registered Republicans. The job of filling the vacancies was turned over to the county Democratic committee.

Missiles Expert Gets New Post

London, Sept. 23 (AP)—An official source said today Dr. Standish Masterman, 43-year-old government expert on guided missiles, has been transferred to non-secret work because of past membership in the Communist party.

Security agents and Supply Ministry officials were reported convinced of his loyalty, said the source, but "in view of his past political associations, it was decided that he would take up other work." The ministry is in charge of Britain's atomic and secret weapons projects.

Masterman was not immediately available for comment on the report.

Vote Is Called

Guatemala, Sept. 23 (AP)—President Carlos Castillo Armas has called a plebescite throughout Guatemala to decide whether he shall continue in the presidential chair he won by revolution. The voting will be held Oct. 10 along with election of a constituent assembly.

Japanese Dies Of Radioactivity

Tokyo, Sept. 23 (AP)—A Japanese fisherman dusted by radioactive ash from a U. S. H-bomb blast at Bikini March 1 died tonight in a Tokyo hospital.

Aikichi Kuboyama, 40, radioman on the fishing boat Lucky Dragon, was believed to be the world's first death resulting from a hydrogen bomb explosion.

The fisherman had been suffering from jaundice complications brought on by radiation from the Bikini bomb, Japanese doctors said.

His illness and death is a matter of great international significance for Japan.

THIS COUNTRY has been bitterly critical of the U. S. tests, and is reported to have presented Washington with a bill for several million dollars.

Kuboyama was one of 23 fishermen aboard the Lucky Dragon, which was approximately 80 miles from Bikini when the test bomb was exploded.

The other fishermen also are hospitalized but appear to be recovering.

The United States has offered Japan one million dollars in damages for the 23.

Shokan

Shokan, Sept. 22—Callers in the hub of the reservoir country Friday included Mrs. Arlington Visscher and Mrs. Laurence Allen of Grahamsville. The young matrons' husbands are respectively music director and librarian at the central school in the old Sullivan county village.

The Robert E. Thornell family are settled in their new home, the Ashokan house which they bought of Mrs. William J. Greent, now of Kingston, Thornell is a member of the Onteora School faculty.

Among out of town people calling at the corner store museum recently were Harold Pearson, Ossining; Mr. and Mrs. Tony LaGotta, Nyack couple who have a summer home in Traver Hollow; Mrs. Charles Hamlin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Martin, all of Kingston.

A wedding anniversary was celebrated Wednesday, Sept. 22, by Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Davis, Ashokan couple whose marriage took place, 1931, in Brooklyn. The former Ruth Marcus and her husband have three children —Lewis, Michael and Steven.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Deuel of New York are spending a few days at their bungalow, the former Ilotti place, near Samsonville which they bought a few weeks ago. Mrs. Deuel before marriage was Helen Matland of Shokan.

Mrs. George Terwilliger and Mrs. Charles Gaffkin of the Bushkill sector of Olive were callers here Monday. Mrs. Terwilliger, a native of West Shokan, is the sister of John and William Roosa of Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Peck and son of Charleston, S. C., are spending a vacation with their relatives, the Robert B. Pecks. Tommy for several years has been camera man for the Charleston Courier. His father, R. B. Peck, of the Herald-Tribune reportorial staff, is also here on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Holm, New York couple who own the Ben Dudrey form at Acorn Hill, plan to reside in the south Olive community the year round. Heretofore they have been coming up for the summer months.

Mrs. Edward Adsit of the village center is at Kingston Hospital this week for a check up. Mrs. Adsit is the former Bertha Beesmer of Olive City.

No Crisis

Mount Pleasant, S. C. (AP)—Thirty-six voters out of 695 registered went to the polls in a town election here to re-elect unopposed Mayor Francis F. Coleman to his fifth term, along with six councilmen and the waterworks commissioner. "I don't know whether you would call this a vote of confidence," Coleman commented, "bu at least made it legal."

Postal Difficulties

During the Civil War the Confederate states ran into many postal difficulties. Often postmasters used rubber stamps or handwritten signatures to denote paid-up postage.

Crime on Increase

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP)—FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover says crime in America will reach a record high this year if the present rate keeps up. In the semi-annual issue of the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, compiled from police reports from across the nation, Hoover said 1,136,140 major crimes were committed in January-June of this year. That's 88,850 more than a year ago and figures out to a major crime every 13.8 seconds. The FBI summary said robbery increased 20.4 per cent between the two periods, burglaries 13.2 per cent, larceny 9 per cent and murders 0.9 per cent. It said the aggravated assault rate showed no change. Rape offenses were listed as declining 1.2 per cent, auto theft down 2.3 per cent and negligent manslaughter down 3.9 per cent.

Stresses Case Election

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—Leonard Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, says the election of Clifford P. Case as U. S. senator from New Jersey is necessary "to assure completion of the great Eisenhower program. A group of Jersey Republicans is opposed to Case's candidacy on grounds that his voting record while a congressman was "too liberal." Hall told them that "we must have strong Eisenhower supporters like Cliff Case in the United States Senate" so that the President's program may reach successful completion.

Belleayre Ski Lift Now in Operation

As seen from the summit of Belleayre Mountain, the riotous color of fall foliage is one of the crowning glories of the Catskills. Maples, beeches and birches are profligate with their reds, golds, browns and yellows. Only the hemlocks on neighboring mountain-sides are stable with their greens.

So that the public may enjoy this sight of painted trees and vast seas of rolling mountains the chair lift at the Belleayre Mt. Ski Center off Route 28 at Highmount, between Pine Hill and Fleischmanns, will be in operation Saturdays and Sundays, including Columbus Day, until October 17. The lift takes passengers up and down the mountain on a pleasant, leisurely ride. At the summit passengers get off and may picnic or roam along the flat ridge of the mountain to the fire tower.

During the summer the Belleayre Mt. Ski Center, which is operated by the New York State Conservation Department, has broken records. More than 40,000 persons visited the area and of these almost 30,000 rode the chair lift, the only one in New York State. All previous records for a single summer day were broken on Sunday of the Labor Day weekend when some 1,100 persons rode the lift to the mountain summit.

One of the new attractions at Belleayre is the ski lodge, a two-story log structure that is deceptively small-looking from the parking area. Actually it is more than 100 feet long by 45 feet wide. Besides administrative offices it has a handsome lounge, ski shop and cafeteria.

The lodge will be used October 16 by the New York State Winter Sports Council for its annual forum. The council is composed of ski clubs, area operators, resort owners, manufacturers, advertising specialists, travel and transportation officials and persons interested in promoting winter sport. E. M. Huben of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., in Kingston is president.

Broken Axle Derails Train

San Francisco, Sept. 23 (AP)—A broken axle derailed the Santa Fe Railroad's speeding streamliner San Francisco Chief yesterday and all 191 passengers escaped serious injury.

Between 20 and 30 suffered bumps and bruises but only two passengers and three crew members were hospitalized over night. They were to be released today.

The railroad reported damage at $250,000.

The accident occurred at Orwood crossing, 40 miles east of San Francisco, as the train started to slow for a draw bridge at the edge of the slough-creased San Joaquin delta country.

Roadmaster Walter Johnson said a dragging broken axle on one of the diesel engine units was the probable cause. Nine cars left the track.

Engineer Emil Kloehn said the train was traveling about 70 miles an hour.

Keep Gasket Clean

Keep the gasket around your refrigerator door clean. Grease softens rubber, so spilled food may cause damage. Use a clean cloth dipped in sudsy water or baking-soda solution for the cleaning.

Sensitive Capitalist

Stockholm (AP)—A worker was fined $200 in Uppsala recently for failing to declare in his income tax return the small fortune he had saved in years of thrifty living. He told the court he was afraid his workmates would find out he had a bank account and taunt him for being a "capitalist."

Latest Flim-Flam

Honea Path, S. C. (AP)—A flim-flam skin game is being worked on TV sets here. R. L. Beasley, Jr., said a man appeared at his home while he and Mrs. Beasley were at work, told neighbors he had come in response to a call from Beasley to get his TV set for repairs, took it away and hasn't been seen since.

Social Agencies Supports Board For Mental Health

Dr. Edward Shea, chairman of the Ulster County Mental Health Committee, was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies at the home of Mrs. Allan Hanstein, Tuesday at 1:30 p. m.

Mental health facilities, explained Dr. Shea, are inadequate, in fact, do not exist in Ulster county. For the past four years, an educational program to acquaint the public with the need and value of such facilities has been carried on by the Mental Health Committee.

This year, through the assistance of the Mental Health Services Act, Ulster county is proceeding to realize its aim; that is, to secure a psychiatric team consisting of a psychologist, psychiatrist and a psychiatric social worker. Ideally, one such team serves 50,000 people.

Also, the Mental Services Act provides for the appointment of a Mental Health Board by the chairman of the board of supervisors. Included in this board are two physicians and the commissioners of health and welfare.

Dr. Shea stressed the benefits to be derived from the mental health program are much greater than the cost of establishment. It has diagnostic, therapeutic and preventative value. It provides facilities for out-patients, in-patients, rehabilitation and education.

In response to Dr. Shea's talk, a motion was passed by the Council of Social Agencies to have a resolution drafted and sent to the Board of Supervisors in support of the Mental Health Board.

Represented at this meeting were 20 organizations. Adrian Kaplan, president, announced the next meeting, October 19, at which time the Day Care Center will be presented as the topic for consideration.

MRS. ALBERT ROTHER, the former Marian Lorraine Morello of East Kingston. (Pennington photo).

Miss Marian Morello, Albert John Rother, Wedding Solemnized

Miss Marian Lorraine Morello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Morello of East Kingston, became the bride of Albert John Rother, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rother of Wittenberg, in a ceremony held Sunday, Sept. 19 at 3 p. m. at St. Colman's Church, East Kingston. The Rev. Edmund Radford performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Peter Mancuso was soloist in the selections, Mother Beloved and Ave Maria. She was accompanied on the organ by Miss Margaret Volker. The altar was decorated with white gladioli, pompons and ferns and varicolored flowers. The pews were marked with small nosegays of white satin ribbon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of imported lace in rosepoint pattern, fashioned with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a scalloped portrait neckline. Her bouffant skirt terminated in a cathedral train. Both bodice and skirt were encrusted with iridescent sequin embroidery. A scalloped cathedral length French illusion veil was attached to a matching bridal cap trimmed with sequins and pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of white pompons centered with orchids.

Miss Rose Marie Morello, of East Kingston, was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a cotillion blue gown of nylon net and parchment satin fashioned with a draped bodice and a bouffant waltz length skirt banded with rows of satin. A matching Spencer jacket and a queen's crown of tulle completed her ensemble. She carried a crescent bouquet of American beauty gladioli.

The bridesmaids were Miss Agnes Qualtiere and Miss Helen Donovan of this city. Junior bridesmaid were Miss Susan Anne Morello, niece of the bride, of this city. The bridesmaids wore gowns in heather rose in identical style to that of the maid of honor, and small picture hats. They carried crescents of Cardinal Spellman gladioli.

Miss Susan Anne Morello wore a waltz-length gown of cotillion blue complimentary in style to that of the honor attendants, with a matching princess crown. She carried a small crescent of American beauty gladioli.

Miss Sharon Ann Nerone, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a waltz-length gown in crystal white complimentary in style to that of the bride, and a matching half-hat of tulle, and carried a small crescent of white and red gladioli.

Leo J. Nerone, brother-in-law of the bride, of East Kingston, served as best man. The ushers were Thomas Mayone, cousin of the bride, of Barclay Heights, Saugerties; Oscar Piras, cousin of the bridegroom, of Flushing, L. I.; James Davide, junior usher, of East Kingston.

A dinner reception was held at Sportsman's Park, Rosendale, for 175 guests.

On their return from a motor trip through the southern states, Mr. and Mrs. Rother will live at 40 Montrepose avenue. For traveling, the bride wore a beige coat-dress with a short mandarin style embroidered jacket in black velvet, and a fur piece. Her accessories were black velvet, and her corsage of orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, and a member of the class of 1951 at the School of Nursing at Kingston Hospital, where she is now employed as a nurse.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the class of 1946 of Fleischmanns High School, served two years in the navy. He is employed by Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., this city.

Two Local Men Enrolled in Course At Maritime College

Members of the freshman class at State University of New York Maritime College at Fort Schuyler are Arthur R. Kuhne of 22 Hone street, and Frank Sauer of Kyserike.

Both cadets have elected the marine engineering course and each will work towards the license as a third assistant engineering officer in the Merchant Marine and a bachelor of marine engineering degree.

During the four-year course, the cadets will take three 10,000 mile summer cruises on the training ship, Empire State, visiting approximately a dozen countries and twenty different ports.

Spider Web Social To Be Held at Church

Refreshments will be available. The public is invited.

Dandy Peaches

Aurora, Ill. (AP)—Peaches are growing larger than usual this year on Edward Tesch's backyard tree and measure about 11 inches in circumference. Asked under which variety the peaches are classified, he said, "I call them dandies."

MRS. DANIEL PANACCIONE, the former Miss Patricia DePew of Kerhonkson. (Pennington photo).

Patricia De Pew, Daniel Panaccione Wed in Ellenville

Miss Patricia DePew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. DePew of Kerhonkson, became the bride of Daniel J. Panaccione, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Panaccione of Kerhonkson, in a ceremony held Saturday, Sept. 18, at 2 p. m. in St. Mary's Church, Ellenville. The Rev. Father Gibney officiated at the double ring rites.

Before an altar decorated with gladioli and chrysanthemums, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace with sequins over Skinner satin and a veil of French illusion net secured to a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of chrysanthemums and orchids.

Miss Rachel Shea of Kerhonkson was maid of honor. Her gown was of ballerina length nylon lace and net in cotillion blue in strapless style with a net stole. Her flowers were rust chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Carol Slater and Miss Barbara Decker of Kerhonkson. Miss Slater wore a gown in shrimp color, and Miss Decker in yellow identical in style to that worn by the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of chrysanthemums.

Valantine Panaccione of Kerhonkson served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Gerald DePew of Kerhonkson, brother of the bride, and John Lennert of Ellenville.

A reception was held at the Kerhonkson Firehall for 190 guests following the ceremony.

The couple left on a two week trip to Florida. For traveling, the bride wore a light blue suit with navy accessories. On their return, they will live in Kerhonkson.

The bride, a graduate of Kerhonkson High School, is a bookkeeper at H. Rosenstock and Sons in Ellenville.

The bridegroom, also a Kerhonkson High School graduate, is a supervisor at Channel Master Corporation, Ellenville.

Bridesmaids' Names Omitted in Paper

Names of the attendants at the wedding of Miss Shirley Louise Pratt to Samuel Ballantine, were omitted in the account of the wedding as it appeared last week. The attendants were Miss Jacqueline Sheeley of Kyserike and Miss Marilyn Vogt of Hurley.

They wore floor length gowns of forest green styled with molded bodice and bouffant skirt. Matching crowns and the bodices were decorated with gold sequins and rhinestones. They carried arm bouquets of large yellow chrysanthemums.

Miss Amelia Kruczek, Willis Johnston Wed

Mrs. Victoria Kruczek of Fall River, Mass., announces the marriage of her daughter, Amelia C. Kruczek, to Willis Roe Johnston, Albany avenue extension, Saturday, Aug. 28. The ceremony was performed at Navy Chapel of the Sacred Heart, Treasurer Island, San Francisco, Calif.

Hadassah Chapter Holds First Annual Membership Supper

More than 200 women attended the first annual paid up membership supper of Kingston Chapter of Hadassah, Monday evening. Mrs. Oscar B. London, president of the chapter, extended a welcome to all those newly associated with Hadassah.

Mrs. Joseph Epstein delivered the invocation and Mrs. H. Rappaport led the prayer for the breaking of bread.

Following the supper, a convention report was given by Mrs. George Starkman who spoke on the American scene as related to Israel. Mrs. Louis Ellenbogen gave highlights of Youth Aliyah; Miss Irene Kaplan spoke about the need for the building of a new Medical Center in Israel; and Mrs. N. B. Gross discussed the political situation in the Middle East. Mrs. London discussed the problem of exposing falsehoods being circulated in this country, and counteracting them with facts.

A humorous musical play was presented by the Hadassah Dramatic Group, directed by Mrs. Melvin Navy and accompanied by Cantor Julian Lohre. The cast included Mrs. David Kline, Miss Charlotte Greenwald, Mrs. Harry Fertel, Miss Rhoda Mollott, Mrs. Gertrude Zielengold, Mrs. Sidney Pauker, Mrs. Manuel Lipton and Mrs. Melvin Navy.

Preparations for the supper were under the direction of Mrs. N. B. Gross and Mrs. Irving Meyer. Their committee included the Mmes. Jack Epstein, Joseph Epstein, Harry Friedman, Ben Suskind, Morris Berman, Paul Glickman, I. Werbalowsky, Lousi Kline, S. Schwartz, A. L. Schulman, Harry Kaplan, and E. Wetterhahn. Mrs. Ben Schecter was chairman of Waitress Committee with members Mmes. Irving Buck, Murray Fletcher, H. Gershuny, L. Kornfeld, David Sherry, Jack Smolen, Louis Schwartz, I. Crystal, Sidney Wolff, Arthur Moak and Miss Ruby Markson.

The membership drive was conducted under the leadership of Mrs. George Starkman, with Mrs. Abraham Streifer, co-chairman, and Mrs. Joseph Honig, financial secretary, as assistant.

Ballet Theatre Tickets to Benefit Scholarship Fund

Mrs. Arthur W. Hazenbush announced the members of the Ballet Theatre committee, of which she is chairman, at a meeting held at her home, 77 Main street, Tuesday evening.

Those who will be serving on the committee from the Kingston Branch, American Association of University Women, sponsoring Ballet Theatre Oct. 28 at Broadway Theatre, are: Miss Elizabeth Dwyer, Miss Mildred Kirshenblum, Miss Maureen Heanue, Miss Marianne Davis, and Mrs. Morton Zucker, Mrs. John McCulloch, Mrs. Jack Gill, and Mrs. Paul Mezer.

Mrs. Hazenbush told her committee that the response was overwhelming to the first sale of tickets to the ballet. The chairman added that choice seats are now available through AAUW, and information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Hazenbush, Mrs. Mezer, or Mrs. Gill.

The AAUW is sponsoring the Ballet Theatre performance in this early ticket sale, for the benefit of the scholarship fund for worthy students from Kingston and surrounding localities. Miss Frieda Cohen, a June graduate of Kingston High School, was the recipient of the 1954 AAUW scholarship award.

Historical Society Visits Kinderhook House of History

More than seventy members of the Ulster County Historical Society drove to Kinderhook on Saturday, Sept. 18, to see the House of History.

Luncheon was served at the Dutch Reformed Church by the Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. William F. Hasbrouck, president of the Ulster County Historical Society introduced James E. Leath, president of the Columbia County Historical Society who spoke on the background of the house now owned by the Society and used as their headquarters.

The house, Mr. Leath pointed out, had always been occupied by families prominent in New York state. It was built in 1810 by James Vanderpoel on property owned by the Pomeroy family long prominent in Kinderhook. Mr. Vanderpoel was descended from a one time "Oude Burgermester" of Veenendal and governor of the Provincial States of Holland and also from the well known Van Alen family which owned a large holding near Kinderhook. He was a lawyer and received part of his training in Kingston where he married Anna Doll daughter of the Rev. Leonard Doll of that city. After holding several county offices he became Circuit Judge of the Supreme Court of New York.

In 1836 Major Mordecai Myers bought the house. He had been a captain in the Seventh Regiment and later in the Regular Army's famous 13th Infantry. In 1842 it passed into the possession of Thomas Burt of a family prominent in politics who later was one of the founders of the newspaper Albany Argus.

The House of History, Mr. Leath said, is not solely a museum. It is operated as an historical reference library. Two thousand volumes are available and have been used by hundreds of students. It is also a depository of records of the military service in two world wars of village residents. Thus it endeavors to preserve contemporary as well as past history. Mr. Leath explained.

After the luncheon members of the Ulster county group inspected the house and its beautiful furnishings.

Mrs. Herbert Cutler, chairman of the program committee of the Ulster County Historical Society was in charge of arrangements.

The five classes of the French Legion of Honor, in their order of rank, are: chevaliers, officers, commanders, grand officers, and grand crosses.

McGovern Seems Surprised At His Political Record

Syracuse, Sept. 23 (AP)—Easy charm, ane eye for figures, a dash of boldness and a big punch of practical politics made a career for J. Raymond McGovern, the Republican nominee for lieutenant governor.

But McGovern wears an air of mild astonishment at his own political record so far—six years as a state senator from Westchester county and four as comptroller, New York's chief fiscal officer.

A cherry, gray-haired six-footer of 55, Ray McGovern was born in New Rochelle and still lives there in a comfortable house with his wife, Elsie, and four young daughters.

IT WAS PARTLY the hope of spending more time with his family that prompted McGovern to try switching from comptroller to lieutenant governor—despite a $5,000 salary cut, next year the comptroller will receive $25,000 annually, the lieutenant governor $20,000.

For another thing, going into the lieutenant governor's office would be like going home for McGovern, after his service in the Senate from 1944 to 1950. As lieutenant governor his main job would be to preside over that body.

The son of an Irish immigrant from County Roscommon, McGovern won a bachelor of science degree from Fordham University in 1921. At his father's death, he operated the family plumbing business for two years while going to Fordham Law School.

McGovern then opened a law practice in New Rochelle, where his firm of Dunlap, Otto & McGovern does business under his direction.

IN THE PUBLIC VIEW, McGovern has been known chiefly during the last year as the Dewey administration's principal spokesman in its running fight with New York city Democrats over the city's financial problems.

McGovern inherited the task of sitting in on city-state fiscal hassles from Frank C. Moore when the former lieutenant governor resigned last fall.

Following in Moore's footsteps is nothing new to McGovern. He followed Moore into the comptroller job, too, and continued most of Moore's policies there.

But McGovern takes pride of authorship in a program to boost state employes' pensions by $300 a year and extending social security coverage to state and local workers—both done during his tenure as comptroller.

In the Senate, McGovern served on the corporations, finance, judiciary, general laws, and affairs of cities committees. He was chairman of a joint legislative committee to study installment sales.

HIS LEGISLATIVE record shows patient work at some of the undramatic business of government. He sponsored bills on local water supplies, the powers of local courts, and a measure stepping up state aid for handicapped children.

McGovern insists he was surprised when party leaders picked him to run for comptroller on Gov. Dewey's ticket in 1950. At the Saratoga convention of that year, he says, he was even caught without a dark suit to wear while making his acceptance speech.

He drew 2,523,744 votes in the election that year, against 2,257,259 Democratic and Liberal votes for Spencer C. Young.

A Roman Catholic, McGovern is a member of the Elks, the American Legion, the State and National Bar Associations, Knights of Columbus, and the Rotary Club. He is a director of the First National Bank of New Rochelle, and a vice president of the Fordham Law School Alumni Association.

The four McGovern youngsters—Barbara, 17, Mary Frances, 16, Joan, 13, and Elizabeth, 11—command what spare time he has left from his work and his organization chores.

To Discuss Problems

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 23 (AP)—The segregation problems of the Milford Township School Board will be discussed tonight in a showdown meeting with the State Board of Education. The Milford board announced last night that the community's two schools would reopen on Monday without segregation and threatened to resign if the state board overrules it. The announcement followed a meeting of the board with Gov. J. Caleb Boggs and State Atty. Gen. H. Albert Young.

Appeals to CIO

Atlantic City, Sept. 23 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell today appealed to a major union for the "full support, understanding and confidence" of organized labor to help in making the work of his department effective. In a talk prepared for the convention of the CIO United Steelworkers of America, Mitchell declared his department has "conscientiously attempted to put the national interest first and act in the light of the public welfare."

Painter Remains Critical Is Report

Stanley Houghtaling, 47, of Coxsackie was still holding on to life today following an 80-foot fall Wednesday morning into a marsh near the Rip Van Winkle Bridge.

Authorities at Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, at mid-morning today said Houghtaling's condition was "still critical."

Houghtaling, a painter, was sitting in a boatswain's chair when the rope holding it gave way. He plunged 80 feet into a marsh on the east side of the river.

Taken to the hospital by ambulance, Houghtaling was admitted at 10:10 a. m. Wednesday.

Frank Brandow of Catskill, who was working on the bridge with Houghtaling, saw him fall and notified the toll collectors in the bridge toll station, who in turn summoned the ambulance.

The Rip Van Winkle Bridge spans the Hudson river from Catskill to Hudson.

Says Situation Mastered

London, Sept. 23 (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, leftwing Laborite, said today the men in the Kremlin have at last mastered the internal situation in Russia and will now be easier to deal with. "I left the Soviet Union," he said, "with the impression that its leaders are for the first time beginning to feel on top of their domestic situation, and so can face the world with the knowledge that any agreements they might make in external issues will not be accounted to them as weakness." Bevan, who was a member of the British Labor party delegation which recently visited Moscow and Peiping, made a report on his trip in the weekly magazine, Tribune, organ of the "Bevanite" segment of the Labor party.

Strike Is Canceled

Pusan, Korea, Sept. 23 (AP)—Korean employes of the U. S. Army today canceled a threatened 24-hour strike to demand the ousting of Polish and Czech truce inspectors from an allied housing compound. Members of the neutral nations inspection teams are in South Korea by armistice agreement. South Korea asserts the Polish and Czech members of the four nation inspection teams are Russian spies. No explanation for the strike cancellation was given.

duced by a feminine voice, which is automatically American in accent, they are, nontheless, subjected to Comunist propaganda."

The pamphlet asserts the Soviet government attaches high importance to its propaganda program—including the operation of an estimated 6,000 special local schools, about 177 regional schools and approximately a dozen advanced schools for specialized training in propaganda dissemination.

In discussing the pamphlet, army officers said today Communist radio stations are active in other areas of the world where American forces are stationed, including Japan and Europe.

The majority of the stations, of course, operate from behind the Iron Curtain. But in some instances propagandized news and entertainment is carried by Communist-controlled stations in such free nations as France.

speech seconding the nomination, roused cheers by declaring:

"The Truman-Acheson foreign policy got us into war. The Eisenhower-Dulles foreign policy got us out of war." On the domestic front, Hall said, the national administration has cut spending and taxes and "done a real job on housing."

HALL ASSERTED that "we have passed laws" making it almost impossible for any subversive elements "to worm their way once again" into federal government. He paid tribute to Dewey for his part in sending Eisenhower to the White House.

Other seconding speeches were made by Mrs. Charles W. Weis, Jr. of Rochester, a GOP National Committeewoman; Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, majority leader of the state Senate; John C. Stott of Norwich, Chenango county chairman, and Col. Melvin Krulewitch of New York city.

Cases Handled In County Court

Ronald Kidd, Kingston, who entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny in county court earlier this week was sentenced to a term of one year in the county jail and execution of sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation.

Kidd along with Robert Hertica of Sleightsburg had been accused of taking a canoe. Assistant District Attorney John J. Schick told the court that Kidd deserved consideration by the court and the suspension of sentence during good behavior resulted. Seymour Werbalowsky, who appeared for Kidd, joined in the request for leniency. Hertica, because of his record, was given a year in jail when his case came up.

Ellen Dorothea Michel, of Queens, who entered a plea of guilty to petit larceny for taking of funds from Wiltwyck Motors where she was employed, was given a six months suspended sentence in jail and placed on probation with the understanding she would make restitution. James Abernethy appeared by assignment for Miss Michel.

Jurors were excused until 2 o'clock Monday and court recessed until 10 o'clock Friday.

Ministers to Meet

The Hague, Netherlands, Sept. 23 (AP)—The Benelux foreign ministers will meet here Saturday to discuss prospects for the London nine-power conference. Informed sources said today the ministers—Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, Johan Beyen of The Netherlands and Joseph Bech of Luxembourg — are expected to take a common stand with regard to West German rearmament. It is known the Dutch delegation will propose simultaneous inclusion of West Germany in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Brussels Pact.

Trial Is Denied

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 23 (AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court today denied a new trial to William Heirens, who is serving three life sentences for the mutilation slayings of little Suzanne Degnan and two women in Chicago. It was the second setback to efforts by the 25-year-old convicted slayer to get a new trial. The first was in 1952 in Chicago Superior Court.

South didn't know just how to bid his hand, and most experts would share his difficulty. The problem is whether to open the bidding with one heart or one spade.

If you bid one heart on such a hand, your partner may bid one no trump or two diamonds. Your hand doesn't look very good with such a response, so you are reluctant to bid two spades since that is likely to force you up to three hearts. And yet you hate to suppress the spades altogether.

The actual South player sought a solution to his problem by bidding the spades first. This enabled him to bid two hearts at his next turn, giving North a chance to choose at a low level between the two suits. As it happened, South landed on his feet because North eventually showed a preference for hearts, and the final game contract was quite reasonable.

It might easily have worked out badly, since North might have had two cards in each suit, and might have showed a preference for spades instead of hearts.

My own opinion is that South should bid one heart with such hands with the intention of abandoning the spades unless his partner is able to bid the suit or unless the bidding develops favorably. Sometimes this style of bidding misses a good spade contract, but it has the advantage of avoiding some of the really horrible contracts that the other style occasionally produces.

The play at four hearts was rather interesting. West opened the ten of diamonds, and South won with the ace. Declarer cashed the top spades, ruffed a spade in dummy, and ruffed a diamond in his hand. He next ruffed his last spade with dummy's ace of trumps and ruffed another diamond. Then he led a club to dummy's ace and ruffed still another diamond.

When West failed to overruff, it was clear that the queen of hearts was in the East hand. South simply got out with one of his small clubs and waited for the enemy to lead trumps and give him a finesse. This line of play produced 11 easy tricks.

It's Brains That Count

New Canaan, Conn. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Baker, campaigning for a seat in the Connecticut state senate, got a $10 check from a woman admirer with instructions to buy a hat that would "dazzle the voters." Mrs. Baker, instead, bought a conservative headpiece. She explained: "Rather than dazzle the voters, I'd prefer to win votes on what's in the head, not on it."

The Mature Parent

Even Adult Children Rebel at Closeness Forced on Them

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Punctually, at one o'clock last Sunday, the four Bryson children parked cars in their parents' drive. As is their undeviating custom every Sunday, every holiday, they gathered with their wives, husbands and children for their ritual of Family Dinner.

After it was eaten, the daughters and wives retreated to the kitchen. They said little to one another beyond, "Do you think Mama will want to keep this celery"

Out on the porch, one Bryson son had his usual political argument with his brother-in-law he privately refers to as "that smug fool Hilda married." The other half-listened, wishing it was time to leave for his round of golf.

Nearly always, the atmosphere generated by these mutually resentful adults explodes in a spanking of one of the children.

Parents of any age who enforce closeness between brothers and sisters tend to alienate them instead.

If passing years always changed dominating people into aware ones, the Bryson children might like each other better. The years don't.

Sometimes parents who've been used to central power continue to demand it. If they no longer command their children's deference for the "sacrifices" they make, they may ask it as a tribute to their age.

Then genuine family affection suffers. Adult children, unaware that this is the same old domination under a new guise, may direct the resentment they feel at their parents to each other.

It's a pity the Bryson children believe they are bored with each other. What bores them is the false positions forced on them by their elderly parents' nostalgia for old control.

What they resent in the undeviating ritual of the Family Dinner is not their fellow guests, but submissiveness in themselves that cooperates with the demand they re-create their obedient childhood.

If this were understood, they could begin the work of salvaging their affection for one each other. Instead of coming together in a ritual, resentfully obeyed, they could plan more wisely and kindly to serve their own needs for freedom, as well as their parents' needs for attention.

Get-togethers might then bring this family mutual appreciation, instead of mutual boredom and criticism.

Such appreciation develops from sincerity. We promote not love, but rebellion, when we force closeness on our children.

Album for Orphans

Houston, Tex. (AP) — When Houston orphans grow up they will be able to pull out their family album of childhood pictures, too. Thanks to the Houston Professional Photographers Guild, every orphan in the city gets his picture taken just before Christmas of each year. It started when guild members, seeking a community service project, reasoned that the orphans otherwise would never have pictures of themselves. Using materials donated by local supply houses, the photographers divide up the work and each Christmas give three prints of each orphan's favorite pose to him.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

Once more the Rondout creek and Hudson river brought many sightseers to Rondout. Since the announcement of the pilgrimage of the New York boatmen to come up on the Dayline into Rondout creek to visit the Shrine of Our Lady of the Hudson in Port Ewen, the question has come up when last has a similar steamer come up this far in the Rondout creek. The best I can remember is when Father Divine and his followers docked here many years ago. The Peter Stuyvesant, a one-stack job of the Dayline system, brought the boatmen up Sept. 12. It turned out to be a fine, cloudless blue sky day, although a little windy and cold. No matter where one went to wait for the Dayline boat to appear one found cars full of waiting and watching folks. The excursion boat was somewhat late so there was a good chance to visit all the various spots over-looking the Hudson river like Hasbrouck Park. The dock of the creek also was full of sightseers and I realize now how many various business enterprises have taken over dock space for it was nearly impossible to find a good spot from the big ferry shed to Kingston Point. Finally I found one of the best spots in Port Ewen on a high location above the Shrine. There I managed to see the Peter Stuyvesant come in sight and salute with her whistle and then once again as she made her turn into the creek one heard her whistle blow. No doubt that was the same route the Mary Powell took so many years ago.

The Rondout creek is now busy with various privately owned crafts who skim along the water and they all seemed to be out this Sunday to watch the Peter Stuyvesant come in the creek. Some of the youngsters running those motorboats, no doubt were far too young to remember the Mary Powell and perhaps that is the first time they ever saw a Dayline excursion boat come in the creek. Perhaps they even thought it was a slow boat and not as much excitement as they anticipated. Years ago, when those Dayliners, like the Hendrick Hudson, used to dock at Kingston Point, the dock would be loaded with eager passengers to get on and the boat carrying a capacity of some 5,000 would also be something to see. The minute you were allowed on the boat you usually dashed for your favorite spot and grabbed one of those folded chairs on the way. Remember the carpet seats. I wonder how many folks remember the mad scramble for the best seats and spot. I liked the back of the boat because it was less windy. Once we were under way we used to walk on all the decks.

I cannot remember ever seeing the Mary Powell turn in the creek although she docked there for years. I waited this Sunday to see the Peter Stuyvesant do her turn. It was no simple matter. She first took on all her passengers for her trip home and then an Island Dock craft came to her nose and took a rope and helped to guide her around. She seemed nearly as wide as the creek when she was carefully turning around. It really was worth waiting for and the dock all along the way was full of sightseers. No doubt some of those youngsters saw that the first time in their lives although they were used to seeing exciting events on their TV sets. The Hudson river and Rondout creek are full of real live adventure all the time if folks have time to come down to wait and watch. I think more folks are enjoying the creek since motor boats became so popular.

10 Artillerymen Going From 156th To N.Y. Parley

The 156th Field Artillery Battalion is sending 10 officers to New York on Friday to attend the largest conference in the 70-year history of the Army and Air National Guard and Naval Milita Association of the State of New York.

This was announced today by Lt. Col. Frank W. Harkin, commanding officer of the local National Guard artillery, who said that the list of prominent speakers is headed by Maj. Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan, Congressional Medal of Honor winner, ambassador to Thailand and head of the OSS during World War 2.

OFFICERS OF the 156th among 1,000 delegates at the two-day conference in the Hotel Commodore, Harkin said, will be Maj. Arthur H. Marx, Maj. James Ackerman Jr., Capt. Gilbert Calhoun, Capt. John Martell, Lt. Clarence Brower and Lt. Otto Schaedlich, all of Poughkeepsie; Lt. Augustus Schrowang, Lt. Edward Schrowang and himself from Kingston.

Lt. Col. Gordon Washburn, regular army unit adviser assigned to the headquarters of the 156th, will attend as guest of Col. Harkin.

In addition to General Donovan, an outstanding author and commentator on military affairs listed as a speaker is Maj. George Fielding Eliot, who will address the conference Friday.

DISTINGUISHED military leaders in attendance at the conference will be Lt. Gen. Withers A. Buress, commanding general, First Army; Maj. Gen. Karl F. Hausauer, chief of staff to the governor and commanding general of the New York National Guard.

The conference is the first in New York in the past 15 years, Harkin said, and is expected to bring out many important factors dealing with security and defense.

Boom Keeps Momentum

Washington, Sept. 23 (AP)—The housing boom kept its momentum last month, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) disclosed today with announcement that 111,000 new dwellings were started in August. The rate for the first eight months of the year, if maintained, will produce 1,130,000 new homes and make 1954 the second biggest housing year in history, BLS said. The January-August total of 796,000 new private and public units started is 3 per cent ahead of the same period last year, although not up to the record pace of 1950—a year which saw 1,396,000 dwellings started.

Memoriam

In loving memory of my dear husband and our father, William W. Dunbar, who departed this life, 4 years ago today, Sept. 23, 1950.

'Tis not the tears, at the moment shed,
That tells how loved was the soul that fled,
'Tis the silent tears frequently wept,
And a sweet remembrance forever kept.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—The stock market advanced today for the third straight time to its third straight new high.

Gains in the early afternoon were moderate for the most part, but they were well distributed. The best usually were around a point although some stocks showed better individual strength.

Trading was quite brisk and hit a pace near yesterday's 2,260,000 shares.

The market was higher from the start and kept going up gradually with occasional peppers of profit-taking.

Oils and airlines were the most favored divisions, and they also stood out today with the steels and some motors. Also higher were the rubbers, aircrafts, chemicals, and railroads.

Greene Firemen Favor Radio Call

Elmer Young, Catskill fire chief and Greene county fire coordinator, announced yesterday that 21 of 29 volunteer fire companies of the county are in favor of a countywide mobile radio system for the volunteers.

Ulster county is still in the process of determining whether it wants a radio system and the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association reported during the summer that a breakdown study was under way to determine the status of each township on the proposed communication plan.

Greene county firemen and the county's fire advisory board last discussed the radio proposal on Aug. 31 and reported in favor of the system provided a majority of fire companies in the county were also in favor of it.

Destroyers Win by 12-4 to Tie Shaughnessy Softball Playoff

Seven-Run Rally In Second Inning Decides Contest

The Destroyers evened the City Softball League Shaughnessy playoffs at 1-all Wednesday night with a resounding 12 to 4 victory over the American Legion at Dietz Stadium.

In the opening game of the best of five series Monday night at the uptown park the Legion scored a 7 to 4 win.

According to Andy Murphy, the third game will be played Saturday at 7 p. m. with a double-header billed for the stadium on Sunday, if necessary.

A BIG SEVEN-RUN second inning practically told the whole story of last night's contest.

After a scoreless first frame between Frank Boyce of the Destroyers and Charlie Bock, hurling for the Legion, the Destroyers went on a rampage and crashed home seven runs to lock the door. The Destroyers put together nine hits in amassing the seven tallies.

The Legion hammered back with three runs in the bottom half of the second and added one more in the seventh.

The Destroyers, meanwhile, added some insurance runs with a pair in the fourth, one in the fifth and their final cluster of two in the seventh frame.

Backed by the solid hurling of Boyce who limited the Legion to six scattered blows, the Destroyers compiled 18 hits, including a homer by Bucky Miller, the center fielder. Joe Watzka had a triple for the Legion while Bob Martin, Miller, Leroy Williams (two) and Johnny Armstrong picked up doubles.

BOYCE HAD four strikeouts and issued one walk. Bock fanned one and walked two Destroyers.

Bucky Miller led the 18-hit asssault for the Destroyers with his homer, double and single. Al Van Der Zee (Chappie to the veteran fans) also had three hits for the winners. Billy Anderson, Dave Lindsay, LeRoy Williams, Don Davis and Frank Boyce each picked up a couple of hits. Cliff Davis, third sacker for the Legion, led his club with two bingles.

The boxscore:

Destroyers A. C.	AB	R	H

Coach Bill Burke will be gunning for his 46th KHS football victory Friday night when the Maroon opens the season against Christian Brothers Academy at Hawkins Stadium, Albany.

Since he transferred from Highland High to Kingston in 1946, specifically to be removed from Kingston's hair, the New England-born mentor has compiled a splendid record of 45 wins, 11 defeats and four ties.

Burke-coached squads grabbed the DUSO gonfalon in 1946, 1947 and 1950. They shared the crown with Newburgh Academy in 1949. The KHS coach made a spectacular entry in 1946. After losing 27-13 to Highland and 31-7 to Middletown, he rallied the Maroons to their first DUSO title in 10 years.

IN THE LAST FIVE games of the 1946 campaign, Kingston beat Port Jervis and Newburgh twice and shaded Middletown 7-6, racking up 52 points against 6 for the opposition.

1947 was rather a strange year for Burke. His team won only two games but was involved in four ties. There were scoreless duels with Highland, Port Jervis and Middletown and a 6-6 standoff with NFA.

Three different years—1948-49-50—Burke missed perfect seasons by one game, compiling 7-1 records each time. Newburgh dominated the DUSO with a powerhouse in 1951 and 1952. Poughkeepsie took it all in 1953 and is favored to repeat. But Kingston wasn't exactly rolling over and playing dead in that stretch. Their three-year record for 1951-2-3 was a handsome 16 victories, 5 losses and 1 tie.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Sam Kaloch was able to sign only five opponents for this year's schedule and he is one guy who probably would welcome return of the DUSO round robin, perish forbid! Bear Bryant at Texas A & M purposefully keeps his squads down to a wieldy 45 or so because "I don't want to wind up with 80 or 90 boys eating big steaks and not beating anybody. . . ." Joe Hoffman is up and around again having licked an extended siege of back miseries. Fred Davi is talking about amateur boxing bouts at the auditorium in October. Our condolences to those hardy Yankee perennials—Paul J. Freer, Leo Pold and Gus Brinnier. Freer's friends are asked to please omit flowers and send the money to a worthy charity instead. Tom Gloede, the ex-Poughkeepsie All-DUSO, is No. 1 quarterback with Lehigh's Engineers this year and Will Hansen of Port Ewen is first string guard. Best baseball comebacks of the season were Joe Coleman of Baltimore and Hal Newhouser of Cleveland.

MORE LITTLE LEAGUe credits. A while back we singled out several American Little League officials who contributed their services and made it a great season. The National League this year moved to its own new stadium, Kingman Park, and completed a highly successful season with perhaps less fanfare than the older circuit uptown. Men like Ray Radel, Bill Murphy, Lafayette "Champ" Holstein, Charlie Diers, Al "Red" Wood Sr., Tommy Lewis, Eddie Baker and F. Tomaseskie. And you can't overlook Jimmy DeCicco, who was the original booster for the downtown loop and Joe Bode who worked side by side with DeCicco. These gentlemen have earned a niche in that lodge of selfless men who devote time, money and energy to Little League ball, and make it a highly successful community youth movement.

THE SCOREBOARD

(By The Associated Press)

On the theory that $750 is still $750, four teams today retained a vital interest in the makeup of the final major league standings.

The $750 represents the approximate share per player of the World Series money for members of the fourth place teams in each league.

In the National only a game separates Cincinnati, now in fourth from the fifth place Philadelphia Phillies. Boston leads Detroit by a game and a half in the American League.

The Redlegs have just two games left and the Phillies have six to play.

Cincinnati still is screaming about a 3-1 loss in Milwaukee yesterday when a ninth inning rally was brought to an abrupt end by a freak double play.

With runners on first and second and one out, pinch hitter Bob Borkowski struck out on a wild pitch. While catcher Del Crandall chased the ball, Gus Bell dashed from second to third and Borkowski headed for first in a hurry since if the catcher drops a third strike he usually has to throw out the batter at first.

CRANDALL THREW to third baseman Eddie Mathews in a vain attempt to catch Bell and Mathews fired across the diamond when he saw Borkowski racing for first. His throw hit Borkowski in the back and rolled into right field and Bell scored from third. Wally Post also scored from first.

Then the umpires took over. After an 18-minute conference they ruled Borkowski was out automatically on his strikeout since first base had been occupied. Then they ruled Borkowski had interfered with the attempt to catch Bell because he drew a throw to first. The rules say in this case the other runner, Bell, is out. The two outs ended the game and the Reds filed a formal protest.

There was no room for protests at Philadelphia where the Phils walloped Pittsburgh twice, 12-1 and 5-1. Robin Roberts won his 22nd game, a four-hitter, in the nightcap.

DETROIT BEAT Baltimore 4-1 on Steve Gromek's four-hitter and Boston wasn't scheduled.

In other action the American League champion Cleveland Indians equalled a 27-year-old record for the most games won by beating Chicago 3-1 for their 110th victory. The National League champion New York Giants bowed 3-0 to rookie southpaw Karl Spooner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who set a major league record by striking out 15 in his first start in the big time. He allowed just three hits. The 23-year-old Spooner won 21 and lost 9 in the Texas League regular season.

The New York Yankees defeated Washington 3-0 with Tommy Byrne winning his third game as the Yanks came up with a triple play, fifth in the majors this season.

BROOKS LAWRENCE won his 14th game for the St. Louis Cardinals, checking the Chicago Cubs 6-3 on five hits.

Don Mossi, a rookie used mostly in relief, and Al Smith combined their talents in the Cleveland victory. Mossi shut out the White Sox through the first eight innings and Smith drove in two of the three Indian runs with a double in the second inning and a triple in the fourth.

WHY IRISH EYES ARE SMILING

Giants Are Rated Edge Over Tribe's Outfield

New York, Sept. 23 (AP) — The almost certain capacity crowd which will pack New York's Polo Grounds next Wednesday for the first game of the World Series will be able to compare first hand two of baseball's premier center fielders—Willie Mays of the Giants and Cleveland's Larry Doby.

Both powerful batters, fleet of foot and with strong throwing arms, Mays and Doby are a cinch to finish up close in the most valuable player awards voting, if not at the head of the class.

And valuable they were. Mays started and extended rallies, threatened Babe Ruth's all-time home run standard for a time and often came up with a key defensive play. Doby, perhaps a mite steadier than Mays in the field, though less sensational, carried most of the Indians' load after Al Rosen's slugging tailed off because of a fractured finger.

MAYS LEADS the National League with a .346 batting mark. His 41 homers and 110 runs batted in compare favorably with Doby's 32 circuit blows and 124 RBI's.

Overall, the Giants appear to have the outfield edge, if only for Don Mueller's superiority over Cleveland's right fielders, Dave Philley and Wally Westlake.

In left field, where Giant Manager Leo Durocher has yet to choose between Dusty Rhodes and Monte Irvin, there's no marked advantage either way with the Indians' Al Smith the party of the second part.

MUELLER, with 203 hits—the most in the majors—and a third-place batting average of .338 is enjoying his best of seven big league seasons.

Philley, a switch-hitter, started the season slowly and is finishing at the same gait with a .224 mark. Westlake likely will take over right field against Johnny Antonelli, New York's lefthanded ace and Don Liddle, another southpaw, whom Durocher is considering as the starter of game No. 4. Both Philley and Westlake are rated better fielders than Mueller.

Smith, one of the real surprises for the Indians, was slated for Indianapolis, Cleveland's top farm club, early in the year. But this converted third baseman took the switch to left field in excellent stride.

In the leadoff spot, Al has produced 11 home runs, 49 runs batted in and a .278 batting average. Speedy and with a powerful, accurate throwing arm, he figures to play against both righthanders and lefties.

WHETHER RHODES or Irvin gets the starting nod, the Giants will present a long ball threat in left field. Dusty, with a .344 average, has walloped 15 home runs and Irvin, although at .269, has 19.

Irvin's performance in the 1951 Series, the last one in which the Giants appeared, may prompt Durocher to go along with him. Monte collected 11 hits in that six-game set for a sparkling .458 effort.

Cleveland has the veteran Dale Mitchell and rookie Dave Pope and the Giants Bill Taylor, another first year player, for reserve. It's unlikely that this threesome will be used for anything other than pinch-hitting.

Mantle, Berra Safe; Others Could Be Had

Stengel Defends Yankee Farms

New York, Sept. 23 (AP) — Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra are safe but some of the other New York Yankees had better watch their step.

Casey Stengel listed Mantle and Berra as his non-expendable men yesterday as he signed his fourth two-year contract to manage the Yanks through 1956.

That doesn't mean the rest of the club is on the block. As Stengel put it, "I would listen on any of the others."

Casey talked for about an hour at a press conference following the signing, about his plans for strengthening the Yanks next year. He said he still was surprised that he didn't make it six straight although he paid tribute to Cleveland because "they beat us in a good fair way."

"If anybody is interested in any New York Yankee ball players, and I should think they would be," said Stengel. "I suggest they get in touch with Mr. Weiss (General Manager George Weiss). He'll be glad to listen.

APPARENTLY STENGEL, 64, hasn't appreciated some of the cutting remarks about the failure of the Yanks to come up with enough new players from their farm system.

"The Yankee farm system isn't dead," he said. "We came up with Bob Grim and Bill Skowron this year and we may have two more next year."

Stengel disputed the general impression that shortstop weakness was an important foctor in the Yankee defeat.

"You'd have to say Chico Carrasquel and that Kuenn (Harvey Kuenn) at Detroit are the best in the league," he said. "You wouldn't rate Cleveland's man with them would you? Our fellows made the plays. You couldn't blame it on our shortstop."

What could you blame it on?

"CARELESSNESS was one thing and that includes me," he said. "I waited too long to catch up with them."

What was the first thing to be done in 1955?

"You fellows ought to know that," he said to the writers. "You've been saying in the paper all summer that my pitching was lousy. I've got a good kid in Bob Grim. Whitey Ford ought to be a big winner and Tommy Byrne looks like he finally has lost the wild streak. Maybe Harry Byrd will be better next year. And Tom Morgan didn't do bad."

How about next year.

"I think we're going to win every year."

Stengel signed for the same "exceptional money," to remain the highest paid manager in the majors. No figures were announced but he was reported to be working on a $75,000 basis salary with a bonus and profit sharing deal that would bring the total to the $95,000 mark.

Carter Fixes Sights On His Former Title

San Francisco, Sept. 23 (AP)—Jimmy Carter, bolstered with another rugged win, today fixed his sights on the elusive lightweight crown he lost last March. And he offered a fervent prayer that he wouldn't draw a third postponement of his title rematch with champion Paddy DeMarco, a fellow New Yorker.

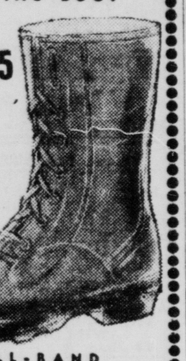

Carter belted out a convincing 10-round unanimous decision over Freddie (Babe) Herman in a nationally televised fight last night. The Carter-DeMarco title bout now is scheduled Nov. 17 here at the Cow Palace.

Carter weighed 137 and Herman 140.

Harry Grayson Picks New York To Beat Cleveland in Series; Sees Giants Winning in Six

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

Who do you like in the World Series?

It's time to stick out your neck.

This handicapper's guess is the Giants in six games.

Harry Grayson

I seriously doubt that the Indians' pitching will overpower the better balanced and swifter Polo Grounders, and it is along this line that the Cleveland club has been made the favorite.

Al Lopez figures to get extraordinary pitching from his Big Three—Bob Lemon, Early Wynn and Mike Garcia—but not to the extent that they will thoroughly handcuff a batting order that is extremely dangerous from Whitey Lockman down through Don Mueller.

EXHIBITION GAMES don't mean too much, but the lakeside pitchers were most certainly hitting their stride in the clubs' last several engagements last spring, and the Giants copped the series, 13 to 8.

The Tribe fattened up in a decidedly poor circuit. There was little or nothing in the American League after the Indians, Yankees and White Sox as the games behind column so plainly shows.

While it was also a three-horse scramble in the National, the opposition was quite formidable below the Giants, Dodgers and Braves. The Reds, Phillies, Cardinals and Cubs could hurt you. The Pirates stirred up trouble for the Giants and wound up belting the Brooks out of contention.

LISTENING TO American Leaguers, you'd suspect that the New York side had no pitching to speak of. It's been remarkable, as a matter of fact, with Johnny Antonelli, Sal Maglie and Ruben Gomez backed up by two of the slickest iron men who ever slipped on jumpers in a bull pen—Marvin Grissom and Hoyt Wilhelm.

If Leo Durocher has to go to a fourth starter, which he probably will, I look for the manager to use Don Liddle, a courageous lefthander who knows what to do with breaking stuff.

Running through the lineup the Giants must be given a bulge at five positions—first base, shortstop, third base and center and right field.

Vic Wertz, the converted right fielder, can make mistakes at first base. There is no telling what would happen there if the smarter Giants start dragging balls in that direction. Wertz will murder medium or junk pitching, but in no way can be compared with Whitey Lockman.

BOBBY AVILA figures to far outhit Davey Williams, but the little Giant is hardly an All-America out. Williams has no peer defensively, where the Mexican can be faulted. George Strickland makes all the plays at shortstop, but Alvin Dark is one of the truly great players of the game. Al Rosen may hit for a higher average than Hank Thompson, but the Giant is the superior third baseman and swats the long ball.

Al Smith contributed generously to the Cleveland cause in left field, but Monte Irvin is the type who could break the Series wide open.

Larry Doby is a menace at the plate and a polished centerfielder, but Willie Mays is the stick-out among the natural ballplayers. Don Mueller sprays hits all over the place, must be the choice over switch-hitting Dave Philley.

THE CATCHERS ARE even in receiving skill and throwing, with Jim Hegan swatting for distance oftener than Wes Westrum.

The bench has helped both outfits, but there are more long balls in the Giants' dugout.

With the Giants possessing vastly more over-all speed, the Indians will encounter stuff they haven't seen pulled all season.

The Giants will take the extra base, hit and run, steal, bunt, pull the squeeze and whatnot.

The Giants came the harder way, could be the better prepared.

Basilio, Turner TV Bout Planned

Syracuse, Sept. 23 (AP)—Carmen Basilio, the top-ranked welterweight contender, will take on Gil Turner in a radio-TV 10-rounder here Oct. 15, provided Turner whips Al Andrews first.

Matchmaker Norm Rothschild said yesterday that the fight would be the first under the joint sponsorship of his Arena Boxing Club and the International Boxing Club.

Rothschild said the Syracuse area would be blacked out for the national radio-TV broadcast. The fight will be staged in the Onondaga county War Memorial.

Turner, who once outranked Basilio in the welter division, will have to beat Andrews in Chicago next Wednesday night before he can climb into the ring with the Canastota clouter. The Philadelphia Negro outpointed Andrews in a rugged scrap a few months ago.

W. Crispell Cracks 642

Burgell "Whitey" Crispell anchored his Wonderly Company team to a pair of wins over Tropical Inn in the Central Rec Major League firing Wednesday night with a solid 642 blast on sticks of 221-226-195.

Top solo effort went to Fred Schryver who jolted a 245 game and finished with 608.

Also in the 600 bracket were George "Stooge" Robinson with the hat trick of 214-222-203 for 639; George Shufeldt 214-244-625 and Elwaad Robinson 214-219-616.

The results:

Wonderly (2) — Whitey Crispell 221-226-642; G. Shufeldt 214-244-625; McGrane 216-200-572; 881-1019-1061-2961.

Tropical Inn (1)—G. Robinson 214-222-203-639; E. Robinson 214-219-616; 896-895-1012-2803.

Hymes Shoes (2)—F. Schryver 245-608; Lottie Cashara 206-207-598; 884-916-980-2775.

Alpine (1)—F. Russano 207-214-569; Tony LaRocca 200-572; Ed Auclair 200-203-563; 902-870-979-2751.

Team No. 1 (2)—Jimmy Amendola 211-538; Vern Van Dusen 531; 969-791-823-2583.

Quality Maple Block (1)—Bill Murray 203-202-562; Fred Rice 550; 874-833-815-2522.

AL Owners May Settle Fate of A's

Philadelphia, Sept. 23 (AP)—A meeting of American League owners during the World Series to settle the fate of the bargain basement Philadelphia Athletics appeared better than an even money bet today.

Such a get-to-gether of the owners would be the next step in the sale of the Athletics. At least six clubs would have to approve both the sale and any shift to another city.

Roy and Earle Mack conferred yesterday for three hours but declined to issue any statements.

Roy was still trying to raise local capital in an effort to keep the team.

Sure-Fit SEAT COVER CENTER
FRANCHISED STORES FROM COAST TO COAST

$12.95 up

Wanted: CHILDREN AND PETS

... or anybody who likes to ride in a car. With Howard Zink fashioned-to-fit seat covers, live-wire children's feet, pets or hard use won't hurt your car's seats. Clothes and covers will stay clean because a damp cloth easily wipes dirt away. And it's easy to slide in and out of the car on either side when you own Howard Zink seat covers.

There are Howard Zink seat covers made for your car . . . at the price of ordinary covers. Many color-right patterns to choose from. And remember, Howard Zink seat covers are made better to look better longer.

Over 50% more clothes capacity!
THAN MANY OTHER AUTOMATICS

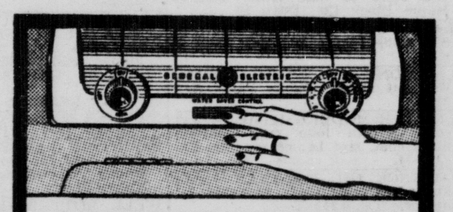

BIG CAPACITY FOR BIG MONDAY WASHES—PLUS G-E WATER SAVER CONTROL FOR SMALL "IN-BETWEEN" WASHES

because...

The G-E has a bigger tub and uses enough water to keep the clothes submersed in suds throughout the washing! King Size capacity is ideal for big-Family washes. You actually save water when you are able to wash fewer full-capacity loads.

AUTOMATIC WASHER

as little as $3.00 PER WEEK after small down payment

G-E WATER SAVER CONTROL — lets you use less water for small "in-between" washes.

- Gets the dirt out — with famed G-E Activator® Washing Action.
- Keeps dirt out — with "float-away" rinse and overflow drain.
- Completely automatic— flexible control for new "miracle" fabrics.
- Clothes washed individually — never tangled or matted.
- Smooth-surfaced Activator — cannot snag delicate fabrics.
- Finest spin-drying—rinse water never strains back through clothes.

Dear Jim:
Will be delighted to have dinner with you Saturday night. But remember I must be home at 9 p. m., in order to watch Ann Sothern in that famous comedy, "Lady in the Dark" on TV. Why don't you plan to enjoy the show with me. You know we'll be able to get it either on Channel 66 or the regular NBC Channel 4. Stuyvesant Motors, my Oldsmobile Dealer is helping sponsor this show. It's supposed to be the top TV show of the month.

Wide Open Race Seen

Delaware, Ohio, Sept. 23 (AP)—It looked like a wide-open scrap today as 15 of the nation's three-year-old pacers awaited the word in the $69,332.06 ninth annual Little Brown Jug. It's the biggest pacing purse in history, as well as the largest ever offered for any harness feature on a half-mile track, and it's possible for all 15 nominees to get a cut of the big melon. Under the new USTA setup for big fields, the owners decided to slice the entries into two divisions. Each will race two heats, with the first one due off about 1:45 p. m. (EST), and then the four heat winners will return for a winner-take-all dash for 20 per cent of the purse. Plans call for a 25-minute interval between heats.

Watson Holds Lead

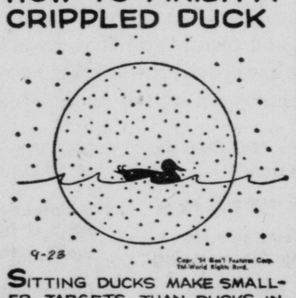

Boonton, N. J., Sept. 23 (AP)—Pro Bob Watson of Ardsley, N. Y., leads a field of 54 into the final rounds of the $5,000 Metropolitan Open golf championship today. The 31-year-old graduate of the University of Texas shot a 37-37—74 yesterday over the Knoll Golf Club course, compared to his first round 67 which broke the club's competitive record. Watson blamed trouble with his irons on the first nine for the skid in his score, but his 141 was enough to give him a one-stroke edge over second-place Ted Bishop of Winged Foot, the U. S. Amateur champion of 10 years ago. Bishop has 71-71—142.

Lou Groza, top place kicker of the Cleveland Browns, had his kicking foot injured in an elevator accident when a boy.

HOW TO FINISH A CRIPPLED DUCK

9-23

SITTING DUCKS MAKE SMALLER TARGETS THAN DUCKS IN FLIGHT. THE HEAD AND NECK MAY ESCAPE PELLETS IN THE SHOT PATTERN, AND REGULAR SMALL-SIZE SHOT HAS LITTLE EFFECT AGAINST THE FEATHER-AND WING-COVERED SIDES, SO USE NUMBER 2 SHOT FOR PENETRATION ON CRIPPLES.

GO AFTER A CRIPPLE AS SOON AS YOU CAN, OR HE MAY SWIM AWAY. SHOOT WHENEVER HE RE-APPEARS AFTER A DIVE.

IF HE REVIVES LATER, SWING HIS HEAD ON SOMETHING HARD.

Grotto Pleases Coach

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 23 (AP)—The Princeton football varsity ran defensive drills yesterday. Coach Charlie Caldwell had praise for end Joe Grotto of Yonkers, N. Y. Grotto, a six-foot-one letter man, played tackle last year and was shifted to the flank position at the Tigers' training camp. "He should develop into a top end, one of the best we've had," Caldwell said.

Dressen Shopping

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—Charles (Chuck) Dressen, a two-time winner as pilot of the Brooklyn Dodgers, set up shop today and announced his services as a major league manager were available. "I've got a job as long as I want it," said Dressen who guided Oakland to the Pacific Coast League playoff title after resigning as Brooklyn manager a year ago. "But I am willing to talk to anybody who offers me sufficient money and a contract longer than one year."

Wins by Length

Westbury, Sept. 23 (AP)—Medley Hanover scored a length victory over Nemma Hal in the featured Minnesota Pace last night at Roosevelt Raceway, covering the mile in 2:06.1. White Mountain Boy was third. The winner, owned and driven by Eugene Pownall, scored his ninth victory in 18 starts this season and returned $7.50, $4.60 and $3.10.

FALL'S HERE — When the sun is in the position noted on this map, fall is officially here. Old Sol was there today at 8:56 a. m., EST. The place is over the equator, at 30 degrees, 52.7 minutes, a spot in the Atlantic Ocean between St. Paul's Rocks and Fernando Noronha Island.

Four Killed . . .

rector of corrections, said while accurate estimates of the damage from the riot and the fires could not be determined, he figured the loss would run about $5,000,000.

Amid the shouting, just before the troopers moved in, came one voice saying:

"If we'd had a parole board this wouldn't have happened."

A few minutes later, it added:

"And if you don't get a parole board it will happen again."

That apparently was a reference to Gov. M. Donnelly's recent action in supplanting the old parole board with three new members all veterans of the State Highway Patrol.

Division Sets Sail

Inchon, Korea, Sept. 23 (AP)—The U. S. 2nd Infantry Division sailed today for its new base at Fort Lewis, Wash. Only a cadre of 1,025 men who have completed their overseas duty boarded the transport Marine Phoenix. Men with time left to serve in Korea were transferred to one of the divisions remaining here. President Syngman Rhee, who attended farewell ceremonies, expressed his deep appreciation to the division for its service in Korea.

Fire Burns Out

Firemen had some difficulty early today in discovering the reason for a fire call at 2:52 p. m., at the top of the West Chestnut street hill. Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford after investigating in the area, found that some gasoline or other inflammable liquid had been burning in front of 55 West Chestnut street, but had burned out before arrival of firemen. Police were also notified of the incident.

No Butter Acquired

New York, Sept. 23 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson says the government has stopped accumulating butter under the 75 per cent of parity support price for dairy products. The government now is disposing of more butter than it buys under the support program, he said, and in August distributed 24 million pounds while buying only 17 million pounds.

Bank Rate Error

The new car rates as advertised in the State of New York National Bank advertisement in Wednesday's issue of The Freeman were incorrect. The "Entire Cost for Year" should have read the "Entire Cost for Two Years."

Chairmen Named For Hospital Fund

Plans for the advancement of the Kingston Hospital Development Fund were discussed at a luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Wednesday noon when the 22 chairmen of the fund organization were invited to meet with Bev. Anderson, general chairman of the project.

Anderson said that within recent days the following men and women have accepted positions of leadership in the hospital campaign:

Public relations committee—Howard C. Shurter, chairman; Chester A. Baltz, Jr., vice chairman.

Public appeal committee—Morgan D. Ryan, chairman.

Business and professional division—Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly, co-chairman; John B. Wilkie, co-chairman.

Kingston division—Howard C. Shurter, chairman.

County division — Abram F. Molyneaux, chairman.

Labor union division—George E. Yerry Jr., chairman.

PRELIMINARY organization of personnel who will be active in directing the program to make possible the expansion of the hospital's facilities and services progressed well during the summer months, Anderson said today.

"We are finding," he stressed, "that there is an excellent understanding of the need for completing the fund that will enable Kingston Hospital to meet present demands for treatment and care as well as those which must be anticipated as the result of the continuing development of this section of the Hudson valley."

At Wednesday's luncheon, Anderson said, the work of various committees was explained and a time schedule of events for the public appeal to start in November was established.

4 Hurt as Cars Collide Head-On

Four persons were injured in a head-on collision on the Ulsterville road about three miles south of Pine Bush at 5:15 p. m. Wednesday, state police reported.

Troopers said Dr. John Tweddle, 33, of Pine Bush, was the driver of a northbound automobile that was in collision on a slight curve in the county highway with an approaching automobile driven by Robert Mitchell, 23, of R.D. 1, Bloomingburg.

Mitchell, Dr. Tweddle and a daughter, Shirley, 7, were taken to Horton Memorial Hospital in Middletown for treatment, troopers said. Another daughter, Joan Tweddle, 2, was treated at the scene for bruises, according to the report. None of the injured was in serious condition, the state police report indicated.
